A day after an Indian student was killed during Russia's attack on Ukraine's second largest city of Kharkiv, Prime Minister Narendra Modi called up Russian President Vladimir Putin late on Wednesday night. "The leaders reviewed the situation in Ukraine, especially in the city of Kharkiv where many Indian students are stuck. They discussed the safe evacuation of the Indian nationals from the conflict areas," read a government release.

Earlier in the day, Russian ambassador Denis Alipov told media persons that Moscow will ensure the safety of Indian citizens stranded in Ukraine. "Russia will do everything it possibly can to ensure the safety of Indian citizens in the areas of intense conflict," he said. The Russian ambassador said a "humanitarian corridor" will be created for the safe passage of stranded Indians to a Russian territory, from where they can travel to India.

The diplomat added that his country will inquire into the unfortunate death of 21-year-old Naveen Shekarappa Gyanagoudar, a fourth-year student at the Kharkiv National Medical University.

Russia's assurance also comes a day after foreign secretary Harsh Vardhan Shringla summoned Alipov and deputy chief of mission Roman Babushkin over the death of the student.

Modi had dialled Putin last week as well, to express India's concerns about the safety of its citizens in Ukraine.

On Wednesday, speaking at an election rally in Uttar Pradesh, Modi said that his government will leave no stone unturned for the safe return of all Indians.

Meanwhile, the Indian embassy in Ukraine asked all Indians stranded in Kharkiv to leave the conflict zone immediately. "They must leave Kharkiv immediately in light of the deteriorating situation. They should proceed to Pisochyn, Babai and Bezlyudivka as soon as possible for their safety," the embassy said in an emergency advisory.

Underlining the gravity of the situation, the Indian mission issued another advisory a few hours later, urging the students to proceed immediately so that they are able to reach the settlements by 6 pm (Ukraine time) by whatever means available, advising them to walk if they can't get any vehicles.

INDIAN STUDENT DIES OF STROKE IN UKRAINE

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

A 22-year-old medical student from Punjab died in Ukraine on Wednesday after suffering a stroke a month ago, becoming the second Indian to lose life in Ukraine since the start of the conflict.

Chandan Jindal was studying at Vinnytsia National Pirogov Memorial Medical University in Vinnytsia, 260 kilometres south of the capital city Kyiv. His death comes a day after an Indian student was killed in the Russian shelling of eastern Ukrainian city of Kharkiv.

Sources close to his family in Punjab's Barnala district said Chandan had suffered an ischemic stroke and was admitted to a hospital in Vinnytsia on February 3. Four days later, his father and uncle flew to Ukraine to take care of him. While his uncle returned on Tuesday, his father Shisan Kumar Jindal is still with him in Vinnytsia.

NAVEEN'S BODY IDENTIFIED, SAYS FOREIGN SECRETARY

The body of Naveen Shekarappa Gyanagoudar, who was killed in intense shelling in Kharkiv on Tuesday, was identified and taken to a morgue in the university, Foreign Secretary Harsh Vardhan Shringla said on Tuesday night

Paratroopers land in Kharkiv, more Ukrainian cities come under attack

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

RUSSIA's invasion of Ukraine entered a critical phase on Wednesday with airborne troops landing in Kharkiv and Moscow stepping up its aerial attack on key Ukrainian cities, including capital Kyiv.

Authorities in Kharkiv said Russian paratroopers attacked a hospital and reports emerged of heavy street battles. According to Ukrainian officials, at least 2,000 civilians have died since the conflict started.

On Wednesday, Russia claimed its forces have captured a strategic Black Sea port city of Kherson though it was disputed by Ukrainian authorities. More Ukrainian cities, including those west and south of Kyiv came under Russian attack as the invasion entered its seventh day on Wednesday with reports saying many of the targets destroyed were in civilian areas.

Kyiv braced for more air strikes over Wednesday night with a large column of forces bearing down on the city. Its mayor Vitali Klitschko said "the enemy is drawing up forces closer to the capital". "Kyiv is holding and will hold. We are going to fight," the former champion boxer added.

Ukraine's President Volodymyr Zelenskyy accused his Russian counterpart Vladimir Putin of trying to erase his country.

Meanwhile, in his first State of the Union address on Tuesday night, US President Joe Biden called Putin a 'dictator' and warned of more sanctions to cripple Russia's economy.

"A Russian dictator, invading a foreign country, has costs around the world," Biden said. He said Putin must be made to pay the price for his aggression. "Throughout our history we've learned this lesson ' when dictators do not pay a price for their aggression, they cause more chaos. They keep moving. And, the costs and threats to America and the world keep rising," he said.

WILL BRING STUDENT'S BODY BACK SOON: CM

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Wednesday said they have received a photograph of Naveen Gyana Goudar's body and it will be sent to the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA), which is making efforts to bring the mortal remains back to India at the earliest.

Naveen was killed in shelling by Russian forces in Kharkiv in Ukraine on Tuesday. Bommai said it is the government's priority to bring Naveen's body back to his village Chalageri in Haveri district.

However, Union Parliamentary Affairs Minister Pralhad Joshi, who visited Naveen's family at Chalageri, said it is difficult to bring the body back and to evacuate stranded Indians from Ukraine as the situation in Kharkiv, where the medical student was killed, and Kyiv, the capital city, is bad because of heightened aggression by Russia.

All Covid curbs lifted in K'taka

CHETANA BELAGERE
@Bengaluru

ALL Covid restrictions have been lifted in the state and large public congregations and weddings too are allowed now.

Members of the Covid Technical Advisory Committee held a meeting on Sunday, the day before the order passed by the government enforcing Covid restrictions ended and recommended to the government that all curbs can go.

"TAC has given the green signal to lift restrictions. But strict Covid-appropriate behaviour (CAB), like compulsory wearing of face masks, screening for symptomatic persons, physical distancing especially in closed spaces, provision for hand sanitizer, etc, should continue. With the government's order lapsing on February 28 and no fresh orders, it means all the restrictions have been lifted," confirmed D Randeep, Commissioner, Department of Health and Family Welfare. P3

Clinics, food courts to come up at six Metro stns soon

Outlets set up earlier had to shut due to high costs, low patronage

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

HEALTH clinics and diagnostic centres, bank extension outlets, post-offices or courier agencies and milk parlours are some of the medical and retail services that will soon come up at some Metro stations.

To better utilise vacant space, and also based on commuter feedback, the Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Ltd (BMRCL) is planning to attract retail services on 27,502 sqft at six of its Metro stations.

Tenders were called for in this connection for Baiyappanahalli, Swami Vivekananda Road, Indira Nagar, Halasuru, Trinity and MG Road stations on February 28.

Fruits and vegetable shops, quick service restaurants, bakery, takeaways, electronic appliances, books, stationery and cosmetic shops are among other facilities that can be availed at the stations in future.

Of the total area to be offered for commercial outlets, Baiyappanahalli will have the maximum of 9,121 sqft while Trinity and MG Road will have 6.282 sqft and 5.062 sqft, respectively, according to the tender document. The maximum term of licence will be 12 years for each of the stations.

Stores like these will come up at select Metro stations | EXPRESS

BMRCL Chief Public Relations Officer B L Yashavanth Chavan told TNIE that for the first time, one side of the MG Road Metro station (facing the Metro boulevard) will open up the premises inside its stations for commercial outlets.

The tender documents adds that it is the responsibility of the licensee to make arrangements for power and water supply for the construction of their outlets. In the past, numerous commercial outlets functioning inside stations during the last decade have shut shop with owners citing high rents clubbed with lack of sufficient patronage. However, some of them had no connection with basic services that the public require. The pandemic and the massive reduction in footfalls, too, ensured closure of a few businesses.

The last date for submission of bids is March 29 and the bidder will be finalised a day later, the tender states.

Only Platform 3 operational at Baiyappanahalli

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE teething problems witnessed on Wednesday morning, with Metro trains permitted to both arrive and depart only from Platform 3, forced Bangalore Metro Rail Corporation Limited (BMRCL) to make public announcements post 11am.

Platforms 1 and 2 have been closed for operations from March 2 for a period of six months, to facilitate infrastructure work for the upcoming Baiyappanahalli-Whitefield line.

Executive Director, Operations and Maintenance, BMRCL, A S Shankar told TNIE that there was no problem in the public arriving at Baiyappanahalli. "After peak hour passed and we reduced the number of trains and despatched them to Baiyappanhalli depot, some commuters boarded the trains, assuming they were going to Kengeri. The security guards ensured they alighted immediately. However, there was some confusion with every departing train and so we decided to make regular announcements about each train. We will continue to do so for some months," he said.

BBMP schools to go smart with digital classes

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

BRUHAT Bengaluru Mahangara Palike (BBMP) schools in the city will soon impart smart learning by using technology to the optimum as it has tied up with the Bengaluru Smart City Ltd to set up digital classrooms.

The Smart City Ltd is providing seven computer labs with 20 computers each and 60 digital classrooms in schools.

"Children will be taught through digital 3D models, which will help them understand the concepts better and improve learning. They will also be taught in virtual modes, and even by professionals," said a BBMP official from the education section.

The official added that children will also be able to interact live with experts from the field through video conference and get involved in interactive learning. "This is the need of the hour. Because this was lacking, many children from government schools were not on par with those of private institutions."

The civic body decided to take up this initiative as children dropped out of higher education during the pandemic, and realising the importance of providing quality education at a lower cost, both online and offline.

The official said the computer labs have been set up and was supposed to be inaugurated in December, but was delayed due to the MLC elections and then the budget session. Once inaugurated, the teachers will be trained for three months and the education process will start.

There are a total of 16 primary schools, 13 high schools, 16 PUC colleges, four degree colleges and two PG colleges under the BBMP in the city.

NANOTECH CONFERENCE TO FOCUS ON YOUNGSTERS

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru:

SKILL Development, IT/BT and Higher Education Minister Dr CN Ashwath Narayan on Wednesday said governments, industries and educational institutions must collaborate to bring about change.

The minister spoke at the curtain raiser of the 12th edition of the Bengaluru India Nano conference, which will take place on March 7 and 8. Organised by the state department of IT, Biotechnology and Science & Technology, the Karnataka Science and Technology Promotion Society (KSTePS), Jawaharlal Nehru Centre for Advanced Scientific Research (JNCASR), the Vision Group on Nanotechnology, and MM Activ Sci-Tech Communications, an event curator, the conference will focus on nanoscience and nanotech. This year's focus for the conference is the use of nanotechnology for a sustainable future.

Speaking at the curtain raiser, Jagdish Patankar, executive chairman of MM Activ Sci-Tech Communications, said Karnataka has a very strong focus on pipelines that allow young students easy access to becoming entrepreneurs and inventors. In relation to this, Ajay Sood, FNA, Indian physicist and chairman for the Department of Physics, IISc, said, "We aim to enable innovations focusing on sustainable future for decades to come. This can be achieved by youngsters. Hence, we have many exciting sessions for youngsters -- Nano for the Young and National Nanotech Quiz. Nanotech Quiz, which was held for the first time, witnessed phenomenal response with participation from 23 states and 5 Union Territories."

The conference will see participation from over 2,500 delegates and will feature over 75 national and international speakers, and 25 sessions. The conference will be held completely online, with the minister stating that many international and national experts were unable to attend physically due to Covid-19.

Daily Starscope

PETER VIDAL

03rd March : An ambitious Moon brings pros and cons over the next few days. The upside is an ability to handle practical affairs, a skill that we could all do well to cultivate today. The downside is a tendency to conceal our real feelings. Hang on, though: come to think of it, that can be a positive advantage!

ARIES
(Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
The fact that Mercury has been setting up several relationships, only to change its mind at the last moment, indicates that a promised contact may fail to bear fruit unless you take emergency action, completing vital arrangements on your own authority.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 - May 21)
You'll be in the fast lane today - although not too fast, let's hope! You may find that irritations connected to a worldly or financial ambition disrupt your attempts to relax. If your responsibilities are of an informal and flexible nature, then so much the better.

GEMINI
(May 22 - June 21)
Mercury is making a very rare alignment with Jupiter, suggesting that you will only get by if you have as broad an appreciation of the facts as possible. All your past experiences, no matter how trivial, could now help you to victory.

CANCER
(June 22 - July 23)
The winds of change seem to have slackened off a little, although I would advise you against dropping your guard. Complacency is the Cancerian's worst enemy at the present time - especially if you forget just how sensitive close partners can be.

LEO
(July 24 - Aug. 23)
A change, it is said, is as good as a rest. Now that the Sun, your planetary ruler, is cruising through laid-back Pisces, why don't you push onerous responsibilities to one side and put your feet up. One thing though - don't take foolish financial risks.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
Ever since Mercury altered its position you have been dreaming up new schemes to make your work-load easier. It should now become clear to all but the most obstinate Virgo that part of the answer lies in co-operation with people you have badly misjudged.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
Don't worry if you have a difficult day, as the evening should be considerably more to your liking. The whole point is that you've had enough of partners' or family members' endless demands and complaints. Isn't it time they praised you instead? I think so!

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
The news that your two celestial rulers, Mars and Pluto, are so finely positioned, can only do you good. What's more, in the long run, life can only get better. Yet tread carefully, for decisions you make now, especially financial ones, will have a major impact in a couple of weeks.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Just when you thought all was lost, a new scheme is likely to pop into your head. You should be open and ready to accept whatever happens, and also prepared to take the flak when people realise what you're up to. Stand by your guns and stick up for the truth.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
This really is the lull before the storm. Yet unlike some previous battles this one will be firmly rooted in specific issues, such as money. Not only that, but this time you will have a number of important allies on your side. One of the chief of these is your own confidence!

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Nobody can accuse you of being blinkered, but the Moon inclines you to ignore those facts or elementary truths which don't happen to suit you. If you can get away with taking no notice of the facts, well done! But, if you can't, then you'd better take good care!

PISCES
(Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
You have a number of excellent ideas, but it does seem as if one or two doubts are also surfacing. This is all to the good. What I mean by this is that if you develop the power to criticise your own actions, you'll be able to cut out certain of your weaknesses.

Driving alone? Masks not must

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Bengaluru

KARNATAKA will soon remove the mask mandate for lone travellers in cars. The Technical Advisory Committee, at its recent meeting, stressed the importance of appropriate masking in reducing infections in the previous three waves, but recommended dropping the mask mandate for drivers alone in a car.

However, if there are one or more passengers, even family members, it is mandatory that all of them wear face masks. "The use of face mask becomes more important when the AC is on. Be it in a car or any other closed spaces like theatres, auditoriums or wedding halls, it is extremely important to wear appropriate face masks and in the right way," said Dr Sanjay K, from SHRC Hospital in Jayanagar.

Reopening to continue in March

THE mask mandate for lone travellers in cars too is going. TAC members stressed on the importance of appropriate masking in reducing infections in the previous three waves, but recommended dropping the mask mandate for drivers travelling alone in a car/taxi.

TAC members made the recommendation as Covid cases are declining steadily and even the central government has advised states to relax Covid restrictions.The state govt had relaxed some norms, like allowing 100 percent occupancy in theatres, gyms, swimming pools etc, but had continued with restrictions on large gatherings.

Experts discussed that in the last fortnight, there has been a steady decline in test positivity rate and has remained below one."Covid cases peaked in Jan-end, when we had over 48k cases, while TPR was at 22.5 per cent. But in the last week of Feb, we had 514 cases and the TPR was 0.84 per cent," a TAC member said.

The meeting discussed that none of the districts in the state have a high TPR, with Tumakuru being on top with a TPR of 2.29 per cent. There was a deliberation too on deaths continuing to be high despite lower hospitalisations. "All Covid-related deaths are being audited district wise," said a health department official. TAC recommended to the government that reopening can continue till March-end if necessary.

LOW BIRTHWEIGHT

Pre-term baby undergoes heart surgery

RANJANI MADHAVAN @Bengaluru

A premature infant weighing 1.18kg underwent open heart surgery — one with the lowest birthweight to do so in India — for a complex congenital heart disease in a hospital in Bengaluru.

Born at 30 weeks, he was found to have a congenital issue called Transposition of Great Arteries (TGA). This is a serious, rare heart problem in which the two main arteries leaving the heart are reversed, which can lead to death if not corrected. Essentially, the bad blood goes back into the body and good blood goes back to the lungs. Ahead of March 3, observed as World Birth Defects Day, doctors at Manipal Hospital successfully conducted an arterial switch operation.

"The mother delivered twins prematurely, of which one of them had TGA and was not breathing well. He also had blue baby syndrome, wherein the good blood is not circulated in the body," said Dr Kavya Mallikarjun, Consultant, Paediatric Cardiology.

Dr Kavya said they observed him for over 10 days in the NICU, as each day gives him additional benefit of survival. "The lungs, kidneys and other organs are immature in a preterm baby. If we operate early, the chances of survival are less. We later conducted an arterial switch operation wherein the aorta is put back to the left ventricle and pulmonary artery is put back to the right ventricle," Dr Kavya added.

Dr Devananda, Cardiac Surgery, Head & Consultant, Cardiothoracic Vascular Surgery, Heart and Lung Transplant Surgery, said they waited so that the lungs become better and the size of the baby was a challenge. The team of doctors included Dr Venkatesh, Consultant, Neonatology and Paediatrics.

Post-operative care involved observing the baby in the cardiac ICU, putting him on a ventilator for eight days, shifting him to the NICU, putting him on a CPAP machine, then on to oxygen, before finally getting him off oxygen support. "He also developed narrowing of the aorta which had to be surgically addressed," Dr Devananda added.

BBMP failed to collect ₹267cr tax

ACB sleuths who continued raids on BBMP officials on Wednesday, searched 33 offices and found the officials had not collected tax amounting to Rs 267 crore. Occupancy Certificates (OCs) were "illegally" issued to a number of large buildings and establishments, depriving the exchequer of substantial revenue, ACB officials said. A team of 200 officials from the ACB collected several documents which revealed that officials failed to collect fees and taxes from various departments, after displaying ads in and around the city. A senior ACB officer said many MNCs, malls and apartment complexes have not paid tax to BBMP. In many cases, BBMP officials bend the rules to grossly undertax these establishments. In some cases, they have collected tax from individuals but not from reputed companies. So we are investigating those who might have been involved in illegal deals. ENS

Maintenance to wife can't be enhanced: HC

ENS @Bengaluru:

THE Karnataka High Court held that maintenance awarded to an estranged woman under the Protection of Women from Domestic Violence Act cannot be enhanced under CrPC.

Allowing a petition filed by Shivanand from Hubballi district, Justice M Nagaprasanna of Dharwad Bench of noted, "It is an undisputed fact that the wife invoked the provisions of the Act in which maintenance was awarded. It is also an admitted fact that there is no proceeding initiated by the respondent-wife invoking Section 125 of the CrPC. Without there being any determination of maintenance under Section 125 of the CrPC, petition under Section 127 of the CrPC is not maintainable." The court clarified that the order will not stop the wife from initiating any further proceedings. Shivanand challenged the order passed by the Dharwad sessions judge on June 12, 2019, which had confirmed the order passed by a magistrate on October 15, 2018.Shivanand married Basavva in 2011 and as the relationship soured, she filed a petition invoking Section 12 of the Domestic Violence Act. The magistrate awarded Rs 1,000 as maintenance.

She later filed a petition invoking Section 127 of CrPC seeking enhancement of maintenance. The petition was allowed and she was awarded Rs 5,000. Questioning the orders, Shivanand filed the revision petition that was dismissed by the judge.

Efforts on to put more Kannadigas on flights: CM

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Wednesday said the state government is making efforts to accommodate more Kannadigas on evacuation flights from Ukraine. "We are trying to direct these people to nearest safe locations and we are coordinating with the Union government. The evacuation efforts are difficult because of the war," he added.

"The Union government is trying to bring back all Indians stranded in the war-hit country. Over the next two to three days, 26 flights will be flying to India. The Union government has spoken to the Ukrainian government and requested them to give a free passage to Indians through rail and road routes on the western parts of the country," he said.

He said they have received photographs of Naveen Gyana Goudar's body. The fourth-year medical student studying at Kharkiv was killed in Russian shelling when he had stepped out to buy food for himself and his friends, who were taking shelter at a metro underground tunnel. Bommai said, "Naveen's friends had taken the photographs after shelling stopped. They have shared the photos of Naveen's mortal remains and the body has clothes that Naveen was wearing on that day. We will talk to External Affairs Minister S Jaishankar and also the Indian Embassy officials in Ukraine. We will make all attempts to bring back the mortal remains at the earliest. Our government will extend all help to Naveen's family."

Bommai said some reports said Naveen was alone when the bombing happened, while other reports stated that he was accompanied by a friend. "There are conflicting reports. We are trying to get the exact details," he said, responding to a question on Naveen's friend, who is said to have been injured.

Reacting to the statements of Congress leaders blaming the BJP government for Naveen's death, the chief minister said that Congress is indulging in politics even over the death of a student in the war zone. "It is only India which is successfully bringing back its nationals in such large numbers safely. Four Union ministers are camping in Ukraine's neighbouring countries to assist evacuation," he said.

Communication links have been established. In the next 72 hours, enough aircraft will be arranged to bring Indians back

Mother blames education system

Vijayalakshmi, the mother of Naveen Shekharappa Gyana Goudar, said she wouldn't have lost her son if the education system in India was good. "We cannot shell out crores of rupees for education, hence we sent him abroad," she rued.

Union Minister Pralhad Joshi on Wednesday met Naveen's family at Chalageri village and consoled them. During the meeting, he also assured them of providing employment to Harsha, the elder brother of deceased Naveen.

Evacuate stranded Indians on priority, urges Naveen's brother

G SUBHASH CHANDRA
@ Chalageri (Haveri dt)

THE Union Government should have prioritised evacuation of Indian nationals, mainly students stranded in war zones, along with evacuation from other areas, but it focused only on the unaffected areas. At least now, it should concentrate on bringing stranded students back, said Harsha, older brother of Naveen Shekhar Gyana Goudara who was killed in Russian shelling at Kharkiv on Tuesday.

Speaking to TNIE, he said, "My brother is no more and will never come back. But the pain faced by my family shouldn't befall others who are stranded at Kyiv and Kharkiv, please save those lives," he pleaded. Harsha, who was unsure about when his brother's body will be brought back, said, "It is more important to save the lives of the other Indians rather than getting Naveen's body now."

Naveen's father Shekharappa Gyana Goudara, also echoed similar thoughts. He requested the Union Government to save the lives of students stranded in Ukraine so that the parents are eased of anxiety and tension.

Noting that the conditions in the warzone were worsening with every passing day, he said Naveen spoke about it every day during their conversations. "He was very bold and filled me with confidence. However, on Tuesday morning (Ukranian time), he was killed in shelling and our family is devastated. Naveen had also assured us of coming back as soon as he could reach a safe zone," he added.

STUDENTS HURRY TO FLEE UKRAINE, PARENTS GO INTO PANIC MODE

AMIT S UPADHYE @Hubballi

AFTER the death of a medical student from Haveri in war-hit Ukraine, the parents of Indian students from several parts of North Karnataka are in panic mode. The parents who were unable to reach their wards in the last two days are glued to their phones and television sets hoping to get some good news about the evacuation of their children.

Naveen, the 21-year-old medical student from Haveri, died on Tuesday morning in what is suspected to be a shelling from Russia. He was hit outside a super market, when he was returning after getting snacks for himself and his friends.

As the news of an Indian student having died in shelling in Ukraine spread, the other medical students who were staying with him in the bunker panicked. They informed their parents, increasing anxiety back home. Since then the parents are asking their children to return immediately and are also putting pressure on the local politicians in their respective districts. So far, nine students from Haveri, nine from undivided Ballari district, and four medical students from Dharwad, are either stuck in Ukraine or are making efforts to reach the respective border areas to catch the buses and flights.

When videos of Indian and foreign nationals crowding the railway station at Kharkiv in Ukraine started emerging, the parents panicked, looking at the chaos. "My daughter Tanisha was on the phone till Tuesday. But we are unable to contact her in the last 12 hours. We hope she will reach the pick-up points without any hassle," said her mother in Ballari. "When we spoke to her last, she informed us that she had reached the embassy office," she added.

Joshi flayed for remark on Indian med students

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE leaders of the opposition Congress and the JDS have hit out Union Minister Pralhad Joshi for his statement that "students who study medicine abroad failed to clear qualifying examinations in India".

KPCC president DK Shivakumar said that Joshi's comment has hurt the self-respect of thousands of bright students who are studying abroad. "All parents want to provide good education for their children and it is not proper to make such comments," he said.

Questioning the minister's remarks, Congress leader Priyank Kharge said Naveen Gyanagoudar, who went to Ukraine to study medicine had scored very good marks in his PU exams.

Naveen, who hails from Haveri district, was killed in the Ukrainian city of Kharkiv in Russian shelling on Tuesday.

On the same day, Joshi had stated that 90 per cent of students who study medicine abroad failed to clear qualifying exams in India.

Meanwhile, JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy said he was surprised by Joshi's statement. Naveen's death has questioned the very intention of NEET, the former CM said.

"NEET is shattering the dreams of middle class and the poor of studying medicine. Higher education is being reserved just for the haves while denying for the have-nots," he stated.

Kids flee war zone, Vijayapura families heave sigh of relief

VIJAYAPURA: Parents of students from Vijayapura, stranded in war-hit Ukraine, heaved a sigh of relief as all their children have managed to flee Kharkiv and Kyiv, and head for the international border of Western Ukraine. Vidyadhar Nyamgouda, father of a medical student at Kharkiv Medical University, said, "I am in constant touch with my son. He has confirmed that they have left Kharkiv and are travelling towards Romania by train. There were around 900 students in Kharkiv and all of them have left for western Ukraine in three batches, with 300 in each batch, on Wednesday." It may be noted that around 18 students from the district are stranded in Ukraine. After the death of Naveen Gyana Goudar from Haveri, worried parents appealed to Vijayapura MLA Basanagouda Patil Yatnal to expedite the process of evacuation.

Central govt didn't utilise time on hand, alleges Siddu

BENGALURU: Opposition leader and former CM Siddaramaiah on Wednesday slammed the Centre, claiming that it had 'lots of time' between the armed build-up and actual start of the war, to evacuate Indian nationals stuck in Ukraine. Quoting international reports which said that the 'build-up of Russian troops around Ukraine started as early as November-December 2021', Siddaramaiah questioned, "Why was there laxity by the government in issuing proper advisories for the students to leave Ukraine and make necessary arrangements to fly them back to India? India issued the first advisory on February 15, asking for details of Indians residing in Ukraine, whereas other countries had carried out this exercise much earlier."

Kodagu students make it to safety on their own

PRAJNA GR @ Madikeri

STUDENTS from Kodagu trapped in Kharkiv have found their way to the Polish and Hungarian borders. They made their own arrangements, and are likely to return to India soon. One of the students shared that they could not connect with the Indian Embassy and had to take a decision on their own to ensure their safety.

A total of 14 students of Kodagu are pursuing MBBS in various universities across Ukraine. Among them, four students including Madeeha MG, Alisha Saiyad Ali, Nirmala, and Siniya VJ have reached India. However, most of the students trapped in Kharkiv and Kyiv are heading towards Poland and Hungary. It is learnt that the stranded students have been surviving on snacks and juice, as there is a major shortage of food and water.

Underground stations only safe place in Kharkiv now, says Mandya youth

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Mysuru / Mandya

EVEN as the Indian Embassy in Ukraine has set a deadline urging Indian students stranded in Kharkiv to leave the city, a student from Mandya has shared his struggle to find a way out, as most of the students were denied entry on a train departing the station.

Manoj J, a third-year medical student from Kharkiv National Medical Institute, who is a native of KRS in Mandya district, has conveyed to his family that he and several other Indian students were struggling to board a train that was due to leave the city, which is under attack from the Russian armed forces.

In an audio message sent on Wednesday morning, he said that Ukrainian citizens were allowed to board the train, after which senior citizens and others were allowed inside, but students including him and others from India, who were taking shelter in a Metro station, were denied entry into the train.

He also shared a video message from Kharkiv, saying that the situation there is critical, and several students are in a state of panic. "I am currently in Kharkiv. Many regions here have been witnessing attacks by the Russian Army. Our consultancy heads and agents are updating us about the situation. We are taking shelter in in underground metro stations," he said.

27 students from Mysuru stranded in Ukraine

According to a list prepared by the Mysuru DC's office, over 27 students are stranded in Ukraine and attempts are being made to safely evacuate them. DC Dr Bagadi Gautham said that the disaster management consultant from Mysuru has sent a list to the state government.

7 Hassan students return home

HASSAN: Seven of the 13 medical students from Hassan, who were stranded in Ukraine, have safely returned to their native district so far. Six students, however, continue to be holed up in different parts of the country. Speaking to TNIE, Hassan DC R Girish said that the district authorities are making sincere efforts to bring back stranded students from Ukraine, and they are in touch with the concerned nodal officer. The DC also said that the stranded students have contacted the Indian Embassy and the district authorities. Currently, they are not facing food shortages, and are healthy, he added.

'Temporary ceasefire will help rescue effort'

ONLY a temporary or permanent ceasefire can help in evacuating stranded Indians and bringing back Naveen's body, Pralhad Joshi added.

After consoling the grieving family, he said, "Immediately after coming to know of Naveen's death, I have been in touch with External Affairs Minister Dr S Jaishankar. He has already spoken to his officials and also diplomats in Russia and Ukraine about the evacuation of stranded Indians and also airlifting of Naveen's body."

Joshi said, "As of now, the condition in the war zone is not favourable and only a temporary ceasefire can help us. Even a respite of 8-15 hours is sufficient for us to bail out Indians and also bring Naveen's body. We are hoping for the best. This is an extraordinary situation and we are requesting both the Russian and Ukrainian governments to provide a safe passage to shift Indians and also the mortal remains of Naveen."

He said that as per records, around 8,000 students are still stranded in Ukraine. Under 'Operation Ganga', a large number of Indians were airlifted on Wednesday and similar exercises will continue till the last Indian is brought back to the country. Till now, around 12,000 students have returned, he added. Naveen's parents, Shekhar Gyana Goudar and Vijayalakshmi, his brother Harsha, family members and villagers of Chalageri requested Joshi, government officials and other political leaders, who visited them, to help them bring Naveen's body back.

Haveri DC Sanjay Shettennavar said 1o students from the district are still in Ukraine.

CONG READIES FOR MEGA RALLY TODAY

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Congress padayatra to seek implementation of the Mekedatu drinking water project, witnessed a sudden blitz of cutouts, buntings and banners across the city. On Wednesday, the rally covered a distance of 16.7 km to reach Mehkri Circle in Bengaluru North from Jayadeva Junction in Bengaluru South.

The second leg of the padayatra will culminate at the National College Grounds on Thursday, with a massive rally. It will start from Mekhri Circle near Palace Grounds and proceed to the venue in Basavanagudi. Party leaders from other states too are also attending the rally.

The Congress padayatra saw a huge turnout in Bengaluru on Wednesday | EXPRESS

Opposition leader Siddaramaiah claimed that the ruling BJP was feeling uneasy as the padayatra has received encouraging response. State party president DK Shivakumar said this is a first step in the fight for rights over water. He said people from different sections have participated in the padayatra and called it "historic."

"This is just the beginning. This rally is not about the Congress. People in large numbers took part in the rally. I also appeal to pro-Kannada organisations, resident welfare association members, hoteliers and others to take part in the event," Shivakumar added.

He also said they have invited many national leaders of the party to participate. As many as 12 Youth Congress unit presidents from various states will also be taking part.

On Wednesday, the padayatra wound its way through Koramangala, Vivek Nagar, Hosmat Circle, Richmond Road, Trinity Circle, Shivajinagar, Nandidurg Road and culminated near the Doordarshan Kendra. Huge traffic jams were witnessed along these stretches, putting motorists to inconvenience. While followers and party workers were seen bringing huge flower garlands for Siddaramaiah and Shivakumar, at some places, Siddaramaiah was presented with strings of empty pots.

Liquor industry worries about hike in excise duty in Bommai's 1st budget

BALA CHAUHAN @Bengaluru

THE liquor industry is keeping its fingers crossed for the forthcoming State budget on March 4. The stakeholders' biggest worry is that the government may hike liquor prices by increasing Additional Excise Duty, which may impact business and encourage bootlegging.

Industry sources told TNIE that they have written to the chief minister, requesting him not to hike liquor prices, citing acute business losses since the onset of the pandemic. But according to sources, the government, which is facing a severe revenue crunch, may hike AED by about 12 per cent.

"There was no increase in Excise duty last year. Because of two consecutive years of the pandemic, there is acute shortfall in revenue. Next year being election year, the government will need funds. They reportedly want to raise around Rs 18,000 crore additional revenue from across departments. Excise is a cash cow and may have to bear the brunt of increased AED, despite negative feedback on any hike," said sources. "It is not going to be an easy decision because any further hike on taxes will boomerang on the government next year."

Meanwhile, sources said that retail liquor stores (CL2) have demanded an increase in commission from the present 8 to 10 per cent on Maximum Retail Price (MRP) on alcohol. In 2020, the State government had hiked the AED twice in a row -- once during the Budget that year, and again on May 5, a day after retail liquor stores were allowed to open for limited hours soon after lifting of Covid-19 national lockdown. The AED was increased on all 18 slabs of Indian Made Liquor (IML) from 17 per cent to 21 and 25 per cent over and above the 6 per cent AED, which was increased with effect from April 1, 2020. The Bengaluru Chapter of the National Restaurants Association of India has written to CM Basavaraj Bommai for making changes in the GST structure for the F&B industry from the current 5 per cent without Input Tax Credit to 12 per cent with Input Tax Credit, reduction of Excise duties and AED on alcohol.

Fake journo, 4 others held for extorting spa owner

ENS @Bengaluru

A gang of five, including a fake journalist and four home guards, have been arrested for extorting money from the owner of a spa in Ramamurthy Nagar. The accused also claimed to be policemen when they extorted Rs 1.4 lakh.

The arrested are Syed Kaleem (28), a resident of RT Nagar, Sampangiram (31), Asif Babujan (27), Anand Raj (30) and Vinayaka (28).

Police said that on February 26, the spa owner approached the police and alleged that a gang posing as cops raided his spa and threatened him with allegations of prostitution racket being run in the spa and extorted money.

Police nabbed the prime accused Kaleem, who claimed to be a reporter for 'custom and excise news'. During interrogation, he confessed to have carried out fake raids with the help of his associates who work as home guards.

Police recovered Rs 60,000 in cash and Rs 1 lakh from the bank account which Kaleem had forced the spa owner to transfer online.

60% Indians in Ukraine safely evacuated: Centre

30 per cent have already reached India, Kerala HC informed

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kochi

THE Union Government on Wednesday claimed that of the 20,000 Indian nationals in Ukraine, 60 per cent have already crossed the borders of the war-hit country. Of those who have crossed the borders, 30 per cent have already reached India and the others are in neighbouring countries and they are safe.

"The government is also taking necessary measures to evacuate the remaining 40 per cent of the Indian nationals still stuck in Ukraine by using all its means," the Centre informed the Kerala High Court. The Centre submitted this when the petitions filed by a parent and Kerala High Court Advocates Association seeking to initiate steps to repatriate Keralites stranded in Ukraine came up for hearing.

The situation at Kharkiv in Ukraine is volatile. The city is under heavy shelling and it is advisable for Indian students to stay put wherever they are for their physical safety, said S Manu, Assistant Solicitor-General of India. He said the Government of India is taking all necessary measures for repatriation of the Indians.

Indian students arrive at Lviv from Kharkiv, Ukraine, on Wednesday

The petitioners alleged that Indians are faced with mass discrimination and torture by Ukrainian Army and border patrol units and they are made to wait in extreme cold weather. One of the main reasons for their plight is the lack of presence of representatives of the Indian Embassy.

The ASG replied that more than half a million Ukrainians and foreigners fled westward from conflict zones to land borders with neighbouring countries. This extraordinary exodus of lakhs clogged the borders, he said.

26 from Andhra reach Polish border

Reddi Nomula Satya Sreeja of Visakhapatnam and a group of 25 students who took a train from Kharkiv, reached the Polish border after a 24-hour train journey on Wednesday, which takes 17 hours in normal times. Throughout the 24-hour journey they were forced to stand as the train was crowded leaving no space to sit.

Odisha students walk to Pesochin

Following an advisory in the evening by the Indian Embassy in Kyiv to leave Kharkiv immediately in wake of the deteriorating situation, many of the students have started walking to Pesochin (a distance of 11 km) with their passports. The Kharkiv National Medical University where a majority of the Odisha students studied was also destroyed by Russian missiles on the day.

TRS leader held for raping 15-year-old girl

ADILABAD: The Nirmal police on Wednesday arrested Telangana Rashtra Samithi (TRS) leader and vice chairman of Nirmal municipality Sheik Sajid Khan for allegedly raping a 15-year-old minor girl a few days ago. The team also arrested two others identified as Yellati Annapurna, who facilitated Shajid Khan's meeting with the victim, and car driver Jaffar Khan from the Ananthapet area of Nirmal rural mandal. The accused had been absconding since the police booked a case against him under Section 376 of the Indian Penal Code (IPC) and the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences (POCSO) Act on Saturday. The incident came to light when the victim's parents lodged a complaint with the police. ENS

Canara Bank hikes interest rates on FDs

ENS @Bengaluru

PUBLIC sector lender Canara Bank has raised interest rates on fixed deposits (FDs). It has also revised the rates of interest for savings bank deposits, and also introduced an additional slab of Rs 1,000 crore and above. The bank said the revised rates are effective from March 1, 2022.

From March 1, the bank is offering 2.90% interest on FDs expiring between 7 and 45 days, and 3.90% interest for deposits between 46 and 90 days. Customers will now receive interest of 3.95% for deposits maturing between 91 and 179 days.

Deposits expiring in 180 days to less than a year will fetch customers 4.40% and for senior citizens, it is 4.90%. For one-year deposits, the interest rate is 5.10% and for senior citizens, it is 5.60%. Customers who deposit over 1 year to less than 2 years, will receive interest of 5.15% and for senior citizens, the rate is 5.65%. FDs between 2 and 3 years will fetch an interest of 5.20%, and 5.79% for senior citizens. For 3 years and above to less than 5 years, interest rate will be 5.45% and 5.95% for senior citizens.

In a statement, Canara Bank said that it has given higher rate for new Retail Term Deposit product 'Canara Unique' for 1,111 days, and this will fetch 5.55% interest and for senior citizens, the interest is 6.05%. For those customers who deposit for 5 years and above to 10 years, the interest rate is 5.5% and for senior citizens, it is 6%. Also, in case of savings bank deposits, for outstanding balance of less than Rs 50 lakh, and also for balance of Rs 50 lakh to less than Rs 100 crore, the rate of interest is 2.90%.

'Bihari mafia' in bureaucracy helping KCR loot Telangana, says TPCC president

Hyderabad: Stating that TRS supremo K Chandrashekar Rao had told a TV channel back in 2008 that his ancestors had migrated to Telangana from Bihar, TPCC president A Revanth Reddy on Wednesday alleged that the Chief Minister has now created a 'Bihari mafia' comprising IAS and IPS officers hailing from the central Indian State as a protective cover to loot Telangana. Addressing the media at the Gandhi Bhavan, the Congress MP called upon the IAS and IPS officers of Telangana to raise their voice "against the corruption that is taking place on a massive scale in the State". Cops unearth conspiracy to kill Telangana minister

PINTO DEEPAK @ Hyderabad

THE Cyberabad police busted a conspiracy to assassinate Telangana Tourism and Excise Minister V Srinivas Goud and arrested five persons on Wednesday. The police are also probing the likely role of BJP leader and former MP AP Jitender Reddy and BJP vice-president DK Aruna in the conspiracy.

According to Cyberabad Police Commissioner M Stephen Ravindra, the five arrested persons were picked up from the residence of Jitender Reddy in Delhi three days ago. They are Raghavender Raju, Madhusudhan Raju, Amarender Raju, Munnuru Ravi and Jithender Reddy's driver Thapa. They were were part of a gang that had been plotting to kill Srinivas Goud. Under the impression that they were kidnapped, Jitender Reddy's PA Raju lodged a compliant with South Avenue police in Delhi but it was the Cyberabad police who picked them up. The gang had planned to hire killers by paying ₹15 crore to eliminate Srinivas Goud. Jitender Reddy's driver Thapa put them up in the servant quarters of the former MP and former MP's PA Raju arranged their travel from Mahbubnagar to Vizag and from there to Delhi.

The police are also examining the role of Raju.

THE PROHIBITIVE COST OF PRIVATE MEDICAL EDUCATION IN INDIA

The ongoing Russian invasion of Ukraine and the plight of an estimated 20,000 Indians studying medicine in the war-torn country have put the spotlight on the poor state of medical education in India. Approximately 20,000–25,000 students go abroad every year to study medicine. This high number is mainly because of two reasons. The first is that the number of students aspiring to be doctors far exceeds the seats available in India. As per the data provided by the Medical Council of India and the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare, a total of 16.1 lakh candidates sat for the MBBS entrance exam in 2021 against roughly 90,000 seats across the country recognised by the National Medical Commission. There are a total of 562 medical colleges offering MBBS, out of which 286 are government institutes and 276 are private. The second reason is the prohibitive cost of private medical education in India. It costs more than ₹1 crore for a four-and-a-half year MBBS course while government medical colleges charge only a fraction of that. But as most of the aspirants cannot get admission into government institutions and the private colleges in India charge a huge sum, studying medicine in Ukraine, China and Russia is a cheaper option where they can finish the entire course at only ₹20–25 lakh.

PM Narendra Modi alluded to this problem last week when he asked the private sector to try and set up more medical institutes, and at the same time urged state governments to play the role of enablers and devise policies that can attract private investment. Clearly, there is an urgent need to plug the huge gaps in government and private education. Firstly, the government needs to spend much more on education. The National Education Policy of 2020 had called for public investment of up to 6% of the GDP. As per the Economic Survey presented in January this year, the expenditure on education as a percentage of GDP was only 3.1% in 2021–22. As for private institutes, industrial houses need to invest more in order to provide quality and affordable education. This will not only address the problem but also cut precious foreign exchange outgo.

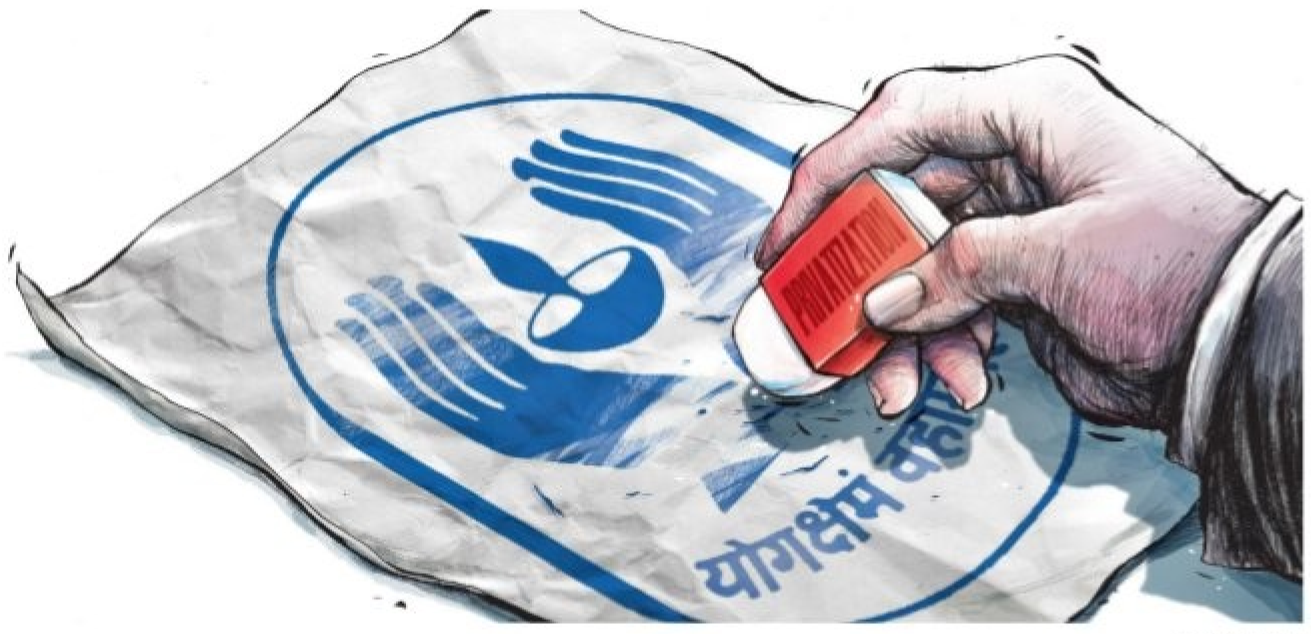
METICULOUS PLANNING HELPS BJD SWEEP POLLS

An astounding victory in the just-concluded panchayat polls has once again shown who the boss is in Odisha. Having grabbed 766 out of a total 853 zilla parishad (ZP) seats, Naveen Patnaik's BJD has outdone itself. It is all set to govern ZPs in all 30 districts. The ruling party's victory in the five-phase rural poll was on unexpected lines but the very strong mandate it received from voters has sent the opposition parties into a state of shock. The BJD may not concede it but the overwhelming support from the electorate took it by surprise too as it bagged close to 90% ZP seats across the state. This is, by far, the BJD's biggest victory in the three-tier panchayat polls ever since Naveen ascended to power in 2000. His party remained in alliance with the BJP till 2009. Three years later in 2012, when both the BJD and BJP faced each other in rural polls for the first time, the regional party won in 651 ZP seats leaving its ex-ally in the margins. The BJP managed just 36 seats. However, it made a spirited surge by winning 297 seats in 2017 while the BJD secured 476. Having fared well in the 2019 general elections, the BJP was expected to throw a challenge. But it floundered with just 42 seats to show at the end. With the 2024 polls not far away, the rural poll outcome has come as a rude warning for its leadership that has been caught napping.

However, this landslide victory is not about the opposition's loss of ground in a state where the BJD has lorded over the political space over the last two decades. This is about the staggering election machine Naveen has turned the BJD into. Two years of Covid did cripple development activities and brought acute suffering to the rural landscape but the BJD was never far from the electorate. Much to the contrary, every policy measure was carefully designed. From giving sarpanches the power of district collectors to manage the Covid crisis and handing over cash benefits to the poor just before the polls, the BJD turned every challenge into an opportunity to reach out to its loyal vote base. Naveen did not even campaign—like in 2017—as he had touched every district well in advance. Team Naveen's meticulous planning, which it is known for, was seen again and the unwavering popularity of the BJD boss led to the decimation of the opposition.

No consultations have been held with policyholders, the true owners. Most of them are unaware of the fundamental change in the character of LIC that is being brought about

THE WINNERS AND LOSERS IN LIC IPO GAME



SOUMYADIP SINHA

T M THOMAS ISAAC

Former finance minister of Kerala

The Life Insurance Corporation of India (LIC) is a unique insurance institution in the world. The policymakers had two objectives in mind while establishing LIC: provide a secure insurance against risk and at the same time, offer a people-friendly saving instrument. Therefore, a hybrid saving-cum-risk coverage product was innovated. The new approach proved to be popular and the LIC's business rapidly expanded. Though the Government of India had invested only ₹5 crore, the total life fund today is ₹34 lakh crore.

Now comes the most important twist in the tale: The LIC invests the life fund and from the net return, 5% is given to the government as dividend and the rest distributed among policyholders as bonus. The business model of LIC was that of a trust holding the life fund of policyholders and distributing the net profit among them. This is what makes LIC unique.

Now the Centre wants to monetise the value of the enterprise and appropriate it by expanding the shareholder base to private players. No consultations have been held with policyholders, who really are the true owners of the economic behemoth that LIC is. Most of the policyholders are also unaware of the fundamental change in the character of LIC that is being brought about.

Already IRDA has brought about two changes. One, it has decreed that only the net profit on participating policies (i.e. policies with saving components) needs to be distributed among policyholders. For the private companies, only around 30% of the policies are participating policies. In other words, it has bifurcated life fund and non-participating policies (i.e. policies for purely risk coverage) are not liable to contribute to bonus.

Further it has reduced the proportion of the net return to be distributed to policyholders from 95% to 90%. As private shareholders increase, this would be further reduced. The LIC has so far avoided compliance, but it will have to fall in line.

The IRDA has generally been biased in favour of private insurers in the guise of attempting to provide a level playing ground to the new entrants. It even went to the extent of derecognising some of the key products of LIC, throwing its business into confusion.

The IRDA is supposed to be the custodian of the interests of policyholders. The valuation of LIC by consultants has been prepared not from the perspective of policyholders but from that of future investors. The listing of LIC has been approved by IRDA in record time without due diligence. The key objective of the regulator seems to be to assure the investors that the value of their investment will be given full protection and necessary lifestyle changes will be made in LIC.

The privatisation of LIC will undoubtedly adversely impact the sovereign guarantee to the policies. Given the general risk aversion of ordinary people, guarantee was indeed an important factor behind the popular trust in LIC. In the privatised LIC regime, to maximise profits, the investments would necessarily shift to high profit but risky share and bond markets. As a result, risk business can become a risky business. Between 1990 and 2020, 82 insurance companies in the US folded up.

The business focus of LIC can shift away from ordinary people and rural areas. In 2021, the average premium of LIC policy was ₹16,156 and that of private insurance ₹89,004. In contrast to private insurance companies, more than 60% of the branches of LIC are in smaller towns with less than 1 lakh population.

In most parts of India, the poor have hardly any social security protection. LIC caters to them with several social security insurance programmes at low premiums, attractive fixed deposit schemes and through special ventures for self-help groups. With the ending of cross subsidies, future such schemes would be jeopardised.

Why should the Central government undermine a successful business model that has been built up over the last seven decades? The usual explanation of public sector inefficiency is utterly hollow in this case because even after the entry of the private sector, LIC has successfully defended its market share.

In 2019–20, the total number of unfair business practice complaints in India in the insurance sector was 43,444, of which 90% were related to private insurers. It may be remembered that their share in the total business was only 34%. In 2021, the operating expenses for LIC constituted only 8.68% of the premium while that of private insurance companies was 11.72%.

The Central government, unmindful of the social benefits, its assured annual dividend and control over vast financial resources is pushing forward the privatisation agenda. The only reason is the prospect of receipts from the sale of LIC shares. It is so peeved by the poor record of privatisation so far that it may fix a very low price for the LIC shares. To ensure the success of LIC sale, foreign investors are also welcomed. This is sale of family silver for a pittance.

Who are the losers? Policyholders would lose a share of their bonus to pay dividends to the new shareholders. Their risk also would mount.

So who are the real winners? For sure, the financial investors who are eyeing the prospects of taking over the largest life insurance entity on a platter. To pacify the restive policyholders, a share in the disinvestment is offered. What percentage of the 42 crore policyholders can also become shareholders? It is an eyewash. The control of LIC is going to shift to the new anchor investor group, whose identity is not clear yet. They are the real winners.

But if the real owners—the policyholders—wake up, the lifestyle changes of LIC, necessary for privatisation, may prove difficult and even impossible.

WHY SHOULD AGEING BE SHADOWED BY FEAR?

DR DEBANJAN BANERJEE

Consultant Geriatric Psychiatrist, Kolkata

Our world is ageing rapidly. One of my patients once said, "They say ageing is a privilege. Wish I felt so…" Being an old-age psychiatrist, I am used to such remarks. People fear ageing, particularly how they will be treated when they turn old. Nevertheless, ageing is inevitable and is also associated with the optimistic aspects of wisdom, experience, joy and respect. Why then is such an irrevocable aspect of our life shadowed by fear and apprehension?

The Covid-19 pandemic has shown us how older persons face unique challenges. Ageist attitudes and stereotypes expose older people to discrimination and negative treatment, which intersect with other forms of stigma based on gender, race and disability. Their diseases and deaths are considered "acceptable" and often mistaken as a part of ageing. Elder abuse has exponentially risen during the pandemic based on the published report of HelpAge India. Misinformation and myths about old age, lack of specific health and policy measures, ageism in society and limited digital literacy contribute to the unique vulnerabilities in older persons. Possibly our inherent fear of "ageing with time" makes us wrongly equate old age with frailty, decay, ugliness, disease and other negative connotations. The recently released global report on ageism by the WHO shows that one in three individuals worldwide share ageist attitudes and stereotypes.

What does this lead to? The marginalisation of older persons in society and a serious human rights crisis. Rights infringements extend to violations of dignity, autonomy, respect, capacity, inclusion and equality. Social stigma, ageism, elder abuse and rights violations in older persons can lead to adverse health consequences. They increase the risk of non-communicable diseases such as diabetes, hypertension, coronary heart disease, strokes and psychiatric disorders (depression, anxiety, insomnia and dementia). Research shows that neglecting older people can increase loneliness, infections, falls, mechanical injuries and premature deaths. Finally, stress and isolation can impact any long-term illness, which is common in old age.

Our existing legal provisions to safeguard the rights and health of older persons are inadequate. The Maintenance and Welfare of Parents and Senior Citizens Act, 2007, is the only specific law dedicated to them. This was enacted to provide financial security, welfare and protection for senior citizens. It requires children to provide maintenance for their parents, and the government to provide old-age homes and ensure medical care for senior citizens. In pursuance of the National Policy for Older Persons (NPOP), a National Council for Older Persons (NCOP) was constituted in 1999 under the chairpersonship of the minister for social justice and empowerment to oversee implementation of the policy and advise the government. In 2012, the NCOP was reconstituted in order to encourage more participation from every region and was renamed the National Council of Senior Citizens (NCSrC). The council strengthened several provisions such as Rashtriya Vayoshri Yojana, Integrated Programme for Senior Citizens, financial assistance under the Indira Gandhi National Old Age Pension Schemes and travel allowances.

However, the paper-to-reality translation is far from smooth. Many of these acts and measures are poorly implemented with minimal awareness among service providers and users alike. Recent data from the Longitudinal Ageing Study of India (LASI) suggests that only one in five older people are aware of the social security and legal measures available for their benefit. Besides, elder abuse is significantly under-reported due to fear of legal hassles and underlying stigma. Not to mention the additional plight that older adults with memory issues and mental health problems face.

A global call: Basic rights of older people include reproductive/sexual rights, the right to a life free from age-based discrimination, protection against violence/abuse, the right to food, work, education and housing. These are necessary for maintaining the sound health of the body and mind.

My granddad used to say, "You turn 80, and you turn on the world. You may breathe like a human, but you live like a burden." It's time we change this narrative.

Including older people's voices will help ensure diversity and equality. No matter how much covert or in their best interests, their autonomy should not be compromised.

At the national as well as the international level, we need specific frameworks to protect the rights of older persons. We have similar provisions for children, women and people with disabilities—so why not older people?

A UN convention can be an apt step and the Global Alliance for the Rights of Older People (GAROP) is one of the leading advocates. Today, GAROP is a network of over 390 members worldwide, united in its work to strengthen and promote the rights of older persons. Also, the International Psychogeriatric Association (IPA) supports this vision of a world in which older people live free from discrimination to fully enjoy their rights.

Mother Teresa once said, "Human rights are not a privilege. They are every human being's entitlement by virtue of his humanity." This is our collective responsibility. Let's act now to safeguard the human rights and consequently sound health of our parents and grandparents. May the world be as we want it when we grow old.

(The author is also a member of the International Psychogeriatric Association)

Nation mourns death

While the entire country mourns the killing of a medical student from Karnataka in war-hit Ukraine, the need to stop Russian President Vladimir Putin in his tracks becomes more pronounced. He's but a tyrant who has scant regard for human lives in his determination to annex a sovereign nation.

Dr George Jacob, Kochi

Perils in alien land

The death of an Indian in war-torn Ukraine shows the perils our students are facing in an alien country. One girl was heard appealing in tears that if not rescued soon, they would either die of hunger or through shelling. India being a 'friend' of Russia can request safe evacuation of its citizens either through a temporary ceasefire or under the protection of the Indian flag. A so-called friendly country like Russia should immediately comply with this legitimate request, if friendship has any meaning and our demonstration of neutrality has had any effect.

Elizabeth Koshy, Pathanamthitta

Victory at what cost?

Putin has miscalculated the military power of Ukraine. Though ultimately Russia may win the war, the loss and destruction of human lives and public property could have been avoided. But the warmongering Russian President wanted to show how powerful his country is. Meanwhile, the United States has proved to the world that it is only a tiger that roars and lacks bite. Except for announcing a few sanctions against Russia, it has been a silent spectator.

A divided house for long

The Congress in Kerala has been a divided house for long and internecine quarrels have been commonplace with the top leaders in the state at loggerheads with each other (Kerala Cong chief threatens to quit over party drama, Mar 2). State Congress chief Sudhakaran finds himself straitjacketed in the party with K C Venugopal, who has the ear of the party high command (read Rahul Gandhi) and V D Satheesan, Opposition party leader in the Assembly, ranged against him. They are stymieing his efforts to reorganise the party. Matters have reached such a pitch that Sudhakaran, who has obviously reached the end of his tether, has threatened to relinquish his post as state party chief. The Congress top brass has always tended to ignore these squabbles and the party has had to pay a big price for such an attitude. Sudhakaran is a dynamic leader who has galvanised the party cadre and the Congress should allow him enough elbow room to function.

Not allowed to board trains, say students in Kharkiv

They leave battered city on foot after embassy advisory, only to be blocked from boarding trains even as locals were let in by officials

ANKITA UPADHYAY @ New Delhi

EVEN as the Indian embassy in Ukraine issued an urgent advisory for students to leave battered Kharkiv immediately by any means, around 400-500 students stuck at the Kharkiv Railway Station said they were not allowed to board trains to reach Lviv and other western parts of the country.

According to students, the railway officials did not open the gates despite their desperate pleas but allowed the locals to board the trains.

The embassy had advised the students to proceed on foot to three safe zones that are within 20 km from Kharkiv, which are Pisochyn (11 km), Babai (12 km) and Bezlyudivka (16 km) – if they could not get vehicles.

Students claimed that they managed to reach the railway station after a lot of difficulty and found it chock-a-block with people trying to flee. Many stood for hours in bone-chilling cold but could not manage to board.

According to Ayush Pandey, a student of Kharkiv National Medical University, the students went to the railway station early in the morning, even before the advisory was issued. "The railway officials did not let us sit inside and even kicked out a few African students who had boarded the trains. They also used force and hit many of those who tried to board with batons," said Ayush, who is from Delhi.

Later, around 300 students decided to leave for Pesochyn on foot. "We have contacted the Indian embassy officials in Pisochyn who have arranged a shelter for us and have told us that they will arrange our evacuation," Ayush said. He added that Ukrainian military also helped them to reach Pisochyn.

Panic after advisory

The embassy's advisory left the stranded students panicked. "We were staying in bunkers sending SOS messages. But this sudden directive had left everyone in a panic," a student said

Another student claimed that even the locals were stopped from boarding the trains. "People were agitated and the locals also started shooting when they were not allowed to sit in the trains. Suddenly, a bomb exploded nearby," he said.

The embassy's advisory left the stranded students panicked. Reyham Khan, a first-year medical student, said, "We were staying in bunkers sending SOS messages. But this sudden directive devastated us."

Jaishankar to brief Parl consultative committee

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

EXTERNAL Affairs Minister S Jaishankar is likely to brief the consultative committee of his ministry on the government's effort to evacuate Indians from the conflict zone in Ukraine and the opposition MPs are expected to question the centre's strategy. The 21-member Consultative Committee on External Affairs have Congress MPs Rahul Gandhi, Shashi Tharoor and Anand Sharma as its members and the opposition MPs are likely to seek reply on issues like delay in evacuation, data related to status of evacuees and Indians still stuck in the conflict zone.

Foreign Secretary Harsh Vardhan Shringla is also expected to attend the meeting and brief the members. Jaishankar chairs the consultative committee of his ministry. On Monday, Shringla had briefed the Parliamentary Standing Committee on External Affairs on 'Operation Ganga' launched to evacuate Indians from eastern European nations.

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi, who is also a member of the committee, has been questioning the government over the strategy to evacuate Indians stuck in the conflict zone in Ukraine. "To avert further tragedy, the Government must share how many students have been evacuated, how many are still stranded in Ukraine and a region wise detailed evacuation plan," he tweeted.

Other members Congress MP Shashi Tharoor and Shiv Sena MP Priyanka Chaturvedi have been critical of the government's action and stand on the matter. Towing a line different from the party's official stand on Ukraine, Tharoor even questioned India's abstention from the UN Security Council vote.

Doc who aided farm stir to help students in war zone

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

US-BASED NRI Dr Swaiman Singh who helped the farmers during the year-long farmer's stir at the borders of Delhi by providing them with medical aid and assistance, is now going to war-torn Ukraine along with a team of doctors to support Indian students who are stuck in Ukraine.

Talking with this newspaper Dr Singh said, "I have decided to help the Indian students stuck in Ukraine having received many phone calls from parents in Punjab, Rajasthan and Delhi. With most students and others stuck there traumatised and in dire need of medical assistance, we have contacted a military hospital 200 km from Kyiv in Ukraine through our contacts. If we are not able to reach there, then we will set up camp at the border and proceed once the border opens. It all depends on the situation."

"A team of eight doctors including Dr Sukhmandeep Singh from Tarn Taran and Dr Harpran Deol from Baghapurana and myself will leave for Berlin in Germany tomorrow from Delhi and from here to the Ukraine border,'' he said.

"We will also try to give assistance in the form of food, clothing or monetary,'' he said.

The doctor said, "We also plan to take up the issue with various embassies. With scores of students preferring to reach Poland border after passing through Lviv on the western side of Ukraine, we plan to start there.''

Can operate four aircraft per day, sanctions won't hit op: IAF vice chief

New Delhi: Vice Chief Air Marshal Sandeep Singh said on Wednesday that the Indian Air Force (IAF) could use four aircrafts per day to evacuate Indians and an evacuation operation would exercised round-the-clock until every citizen is brought back. "We can operate four aircraft per day to evacuate Indians," said at a press briefing. The IAF would not be significantly impacted by the sanctions on Russia by the US owing to good relations with both countries, he said. However, the IAF will face difficulties in getting defence spare parts from Russia as 70 per cent of Indian defence equipment is Russia-originated, said Singh. Meanwhile, four C-17 with 800-odd evacuees will reach national capital on Thursday, sources said.

Mahua blasts Centre over govt abstaining from UNSC voting

New Delhi: Trinamool MP Mahua Moitra went ballistic against the Centre on Tuesday for not participating in the UN Security Council (UNSC) voting against Russian aggression on Ukraine, even as TMC chief and West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee supported the stand of PM Narendra Modi. Earlier, Mamata Banerjee had offered unconditional support to Modi government on Ukraine issue saying that since the matter pertains to external affairs, the TMC is with the Centre's stand. She had also suggested the Centre to convey an all-party national meeting on emerging situation after Russian's miliatrty actions against Ukraine. The Union government had abstained from the voting and refused to term the Russian military action a "war".

Disaster Response Force sends relief material, medical supplies

New Delhi: The National Disaster Response Force (NDRF) has sent relief material, including blankets and sleeping mats, to Ukraine facing an intense Russian military offensive. The move came following the government's decision to send humanitarian aid and medical supplies to Ukraine after Prime Minister Narendra Modi held a high level meeting. The relief material was sent in two consignments – through a flight that left for Poland this morning and another on an Indian Air Force aircraft that left for Romania on Wednesday afternoon.

The NDRF has provided relief materials, including blankets, sleeping mats, and solar study lamps among others, for the people of Ukraine, an official statement said.

Greens worry over draft building rules

RICHA SHARMA @ New Delhi

IN a move to exempt building construction work from the environment appraisal process, the Environment ministry has come up with a draft standard approval procedure for the sector with serious concerns being raised by environment experts.

According to the union environment ministry, the draft Building Construction Environment Management Regulations, 2022 was necessitated to put in place "standardised, outcome based and quantifiable regulations so as to bring in transparency in approach and encourage ease of doing business".

The ministry had constituted an Expert Committee In January 2021 to examine and recommend regulations for building construction and township projects and it examined the existing local byelaws of states along with existing regulatory regime for granting Environment Clearance and submitted a report on the proposed regulation for environment protection.

The present standard approval procedure for the building construction sector is in continuity to similar procedures already in place for some other sectors to ensure ease of doing business.

Slum girls suffered more in pandemic

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE disproportionate impact of Covid on girls, with a focus on urban slums populations, was brought out in a recent a research-led study.

In urban slums in four states, about 68 per cent of adolescent girls faced challenges in accessing health and nutrition services during the pandemic, while 67 per cent did not attend online classes, and 56 per cent did not get time to indulge in outdoor recreation, said Save the Children, India, in the report released on Wednesday.

The report, 'The World of India's Girls: Wings 2022', was conducted in four states – Delhi, Maharashtra, Bihar, and Telangana. About 1,092 mothers and 1,092 girls in the 10-18 age group were surveyed.

"Majority of adolescent girls in urban slums deprived of basic health and education services compared to boys throughout the pandemic," the report said, which focused on access to health, education, and opportunities for play and recreation for adolescent girls in Delhi.

According to Sudarshan Suchi, CEO, Save the Children, "India at 100 cannot achieve its full potential unless we secure 100 percent of its children today. The report is our way of bringing to the fore the risks our nation runs into by not investing in and ensuring all its children. Specifically, the fact that India @75 has almost half its children not able to secure themselves with their fundamental rights equitably."

The pandemic also increased health and nutritional insecurities as shops were closed, or provisions were not available, it said. Calling for multi-stakeholder collaboration, the report said as the impact of Covid-19 will continue to impact the lives of girls, there is a need to ensure their better health, nutrition, education, and protection services, and make them well-resourced and inclusive with better investments.

'OPPN UNITY NEED OF THE HOUR'

THE Shiv Sena will back any opposition coalition whose mail goal is to dislodge the BJP from power, Priyanka Chaturvedi, party MP and deputy leader in the Rajya Sabha, told Rajesh Kumar Thakur in an interview. Excerpts:

How's the josh of the opposition to challenge the BJP in the 2024 Lok Sabha elections?

Josh is high! All opposition parties have a common objective --- to defeat the anti-constitutional and anti-democracy political ideology of the BJP. The BJP government has now become a braggadocio and is misleading the people by their misplaced trust in the party. So, all opposition parties should understand the people's plight and pain and have a collective responsibility to end the BJP-brought kakistocracy in the country. In a simple political terminology, the unity in opposition is the need of hour.

The Shiv Sena in Maharashtra is leading the government with the support of the Congress. But TMC supremo Mamata Banerjee is working on a national plan with other like-minded regional parties to form a new anti-BJP, non-Congress third front. Will the Shiv Sena be a part of such a group if it is formed?

The Congress is the oldest national party. To say that it did not win a good number of seats in the last Lok Sabha elections and so doesn't deserve to be in the driving seat in an opposition alliance is not right. It will also not be good for the unity of the opposition at the national level.

As far as the Shiv Sena is considered, its aim is to support any combination that would be able to defeat the BJP. It is necessary to have the Congress for the unity of opposition. Without Congress, it is not only difficult but totally unthinkable to have unity in the opposition.

Each and every party in opposition should understand this. The Shiv Sena will go with any combination whose first objective will be to remove BJP from power.

It is said the opposition lacks a strong leadership to challenge Narendra Modi.

There is no dearth of leaders in the opposition. There is no leadership crisis. Whenever the ruling party becomes arbitrary, a new leader emerges. There is SITA (Someone Is There Always) factor in opposition; not the TINA (There Is No Alternative) factor. A competent and right leadership will emerge at the right time to lead the nation in a far better way. For now, all the opposition parties need to unit themselves to oust the BJP from power.

Infighting in the Congress is said to be one of the reasons for the party not being so active in taking a lead to bring about opposition unity. As an ally, do you agree with this?

Yes, the Congress is facing infighting. But it is equally true that the most of the Congress leaders still consider the Gandhi family as their leader. We as an ally should support and respect such sentiments. But yes, the Shiv Sena believes either Rahul Gandhi or Sonia Gandhi ji should now become fully active to bring about the opposition in unity.

Is there any chance of reunion for Sena-BJP reunion?

The possibility does not arise as the BJP stabbed the Shiv Sena in the back for narrow political gains.

Channels told to share data

New Delhi: The ministry of information and broadcasting has directed all multi-systems operators (MSOs) and cable operators to share details of logical channel numbers (LCN) data of mandatory channels -DD and including Sansad TV channels -with the public broadcaster Prasar Bharati every two weeks.

LCN is a unique number assigned to a channel. Under the rules, it is mandatory for each cable operator to show all 25 Doordarshan channels and Sansad TV including HD versions on their respective network. ENS

Kashmir schools open after 31 months

SRINAGAR: After a long break of 31 months, schools in Kashmir reopened on Wednesday, much to the relief of students and parents. While schools across India had been forced to shut campuses and switch to online mode of education, in Kashmir they remained closed for extra duration because of the 'lockdown' imposed after abrogation of J&K's special status on August 5, 2019.

Teachers and schools welcomed the students, who were excited and happy to be back. "We pray that now our studies don't get disturbed," said Naseef, a class VI student, who was in class III when he had come to the school in 2019. "We hope there will be no more Covid," said Javed Ahmed, a teacher. —Fayaz Wani

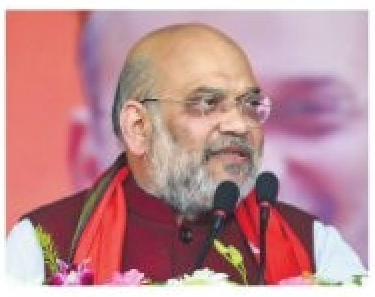
ASSEMBLY ELECTION 2022 DECIDE



UP makes weapons to protect country: Shah

CHANDAULI (UP): Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Wednesday said illegal weapons were made earlier in Uttar Pradesh to scare and kill people but now shells and missiles are being manufactured to protect the country. He was apparently referring to the defence industrial corridor coming up in the state. Shah also listed various achievements of the BJP government. Chandauli will go to polls on March 7.

Camp near counting centres in UP: Tikait

BAGHPAT (UP): Farmer leader Rakesh Tikait on Wednesday urged people to camp near counting centres in UP, claiming "irregularities" could take place. "What was done in the zila panchayat (elections) cannot be ignored. Camp with tractors at the counting sites from March 9 itself," Tikait said. During the zila panchayat polls in the state last year, opposition parties had alleged large scale irregularities.

Yogi directs battle from Gorakhpur

Camping in his 'karmabhoomi', UP CM aiming to win maximum seats for BJP in eastern UP

NAMITA BAJPAI @Gorakhpur

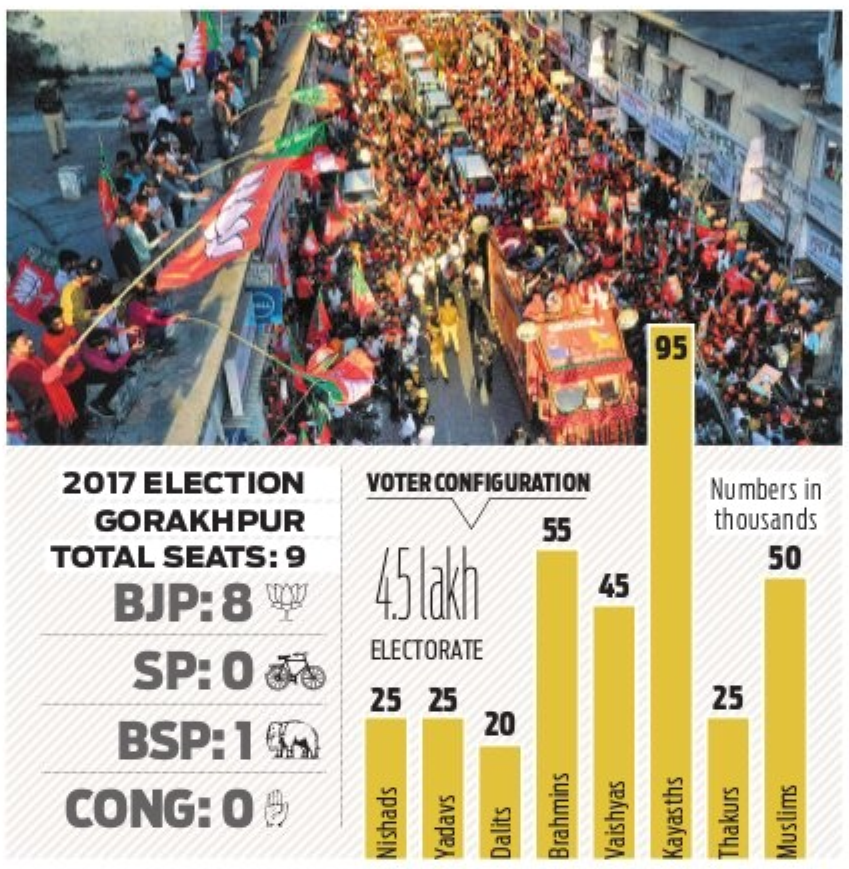
THE slogan doing the rounds in Gorakhpur is 'Hum bhi bhagwadhari (we too sffronities)'. CM Yogi Adityanath is making his electoral debut in Assembly polls from Gorakhpur Urban. And little doubt he is the poster boy of the saffron brigade across the Gorakhpur division.

The slogan is directed against the narrative of Dimple Yadav, wife of SP chief Akhilesh Yadav, where she has compared the CM's saffron robes with the colour of 'rust'.

As one proceeds towards the revered Gorakhnath Mutth, a crowd of youngsters shout: "UP mein rehna hai to Yogi-Yogi kehna hai (follow Yogi if one has to live in UP)." The slogan, popular among commoners across Gorakhpur, is a modified version of 'Gorakhpur mein rehna hai toh…' "Why not? Maharaj ji is now the representative of Uttar Pradesh, not just Gorakhpur. So we have replaced Gorakhpur in the slogan with UP," says Sunil Singh, a BJP worker.

As one reaches the Humayunpura area, close to Gorakshnath Peeth, 'Jai Shree Ram' slogans reverberate. The area around the Muth is replete with saffron flags. Gorakhpur, the seat of Guru Gorakshnath, a saint of 11th century, is one of the most high-profile constituencies as it has been the 'karmabhoomi' of Adityanath who has represented it five times in the Lok Sabha since 1998 until he took over as the CM in 2017.

The Mutth is a veritable war room of the CM who has been camping in Gorakhpur for 10 days. He is conducting whirlwind tours of the Assembly segments set to witness polling in sixth and seventh phases.



For a group of women busy with purchases for a religious function, it is beyond imagination to vote for anyone else in Gorakhpur. There are "no issues" in the constituency. "He is our guardian. He has done so much for Gorakhpur. Even if he had not done anything, we would have voted for him," says Asha Murya, a teacher in a private primary school.

Mohammad Abdul Jadid echoes the same view, saying Adityanath has respect across all communities in Gorakhpur. "He never discriminates between Hindus and Muslims," says Jadid, owner of a men's parlour.

The Gorakshnath Muth, spread across 50 acres in the heart of the city, is associated with various social activities — from running a super-specialty hospital to a string of schools and degree colleges.

Done with the round of morning meetings, Maharaj ji, as Aditaynath is known among his followers, leaves for a series of rallies in areas that will vote in the final phase. "People of Gorakhpur are contesting on behalf of Yogi ji," says Ballu Rai, a BJP functionary. Vinay Singh, a Hindu Yuva Vahini worker, is sure that the impact of work done by the CM will be seen across Purvanchal.

Samajwadi Party has fielded Subhawati Shukla, the widow of BJP vice-president Upendra Shukla who was defeated by BSP-backed SP candidate Praveen Nishad in the 2018 Gorakhpur by-elections. Shukla died in 2020 and Subhawati joined SP soon thereafter.

"My husband served the BJP for 42 years, but after his death, we have been ignored by the party. No one has visited us even once," says Subhawati.

The BSP has fielded Khwaja Shamsuddin while the Congress has nominated former ABVP member Chetna Pandey. Bhim Army chief Chandra Shekhar Azad is also contesting from Gorakhpur Urban.

However, voices against Adityanath are also emanating. "Why not give Akhilesh Yadav a chance to lead UP as this government has pushed the state to hardships through GST, unemployment and price rise. I think Yadav should be given another chance and this time he will ensure to wash off the tag of a party of hooligans," says Shahzad Ansari, a tailor.

Devansh Yadav, a postgraduate student of DDU university, says the Yogi government has failed to address unemployment. "It is time for change in UP," says Devansh.

Gorakhpur Urban is not the only seat associated with the prestige of Adityanath. Much is at stake for other eight assembly seats, including Gorakhpur Rural, Campierganj, Sahjanwa, Pipraich, Khajni, Chillupar, Chauri Chaura and Bansgaon. The BJP is depending upon the stature of Adityanath, who can sway results in over 50 seats of eastern UP.

In Gorakhpur Rural, the Nishad community, one of the most backward in the region, is dominant. The BJP has an alliance with the Nishad in this election. The boatmen community is a deciding factor in most seats of eastern UP.

BIG FIGHTS TODAY

As UP votes in the penultimate phase of Assembly election today, focus has shifted to eastern UP where bigwigs of various parties are in the fray

GORAKHPUR URBAN 2017 | BJP

It is the most high-profile constituency in this phase. CM Yogi Adityanath (1) is making debut in Assembly polls from here. He was a five-time MP from Gorakhpur before taking over as the CM in 2017. Four-time MLA from the seat, RMD Agarwal, had made way for Adityanath. The only challenge is the victory margin. SP has fielded Shubawati Shukla (2), widow of late BJP leader Upendra Shukla who contested the 2018 Lok Sabha bypoll after Adityanath vacated the seat, and lost

ITWA 2017 | BJP

This seat in Siddarthnagar district is heading for a high-voltage contest. UP's basic education minister Satish Chandra Dwivedi had shocked everyone by defeating SP veteran and Assembly Speaker Mata Prasad Pandey in 2017. Pandey, a six-time winner who had won the seat for the first time in 1980, in fact finished third behind BSP's Arshad Khursheed. All the three are back in the fray

BAIRIA 2017 | BJP

This constituency in Ballia which had been carved out after delimitation in 2008 heads for an interesting contest after BJP's sitting MLA Surendra Singh (1) jumped into the fray as a candidate of Bihar's VIP after he was denied ticket. Known for his controversial statements and for his views on hard core Hindutva, Singh faces cabinet minister Anand Swaroop Shukla, (2) who has been shifted from Ballia, where the party has given ticket to its vice-president Daya Shankar Singh

FAZILNAGAR 2017 | BJP

Bidding to establish himself as the most influential OBC leader in the Hindi heartland state, Swami Prasad Maurya's prestige is at stake. The five-time MLA who switched to Samajwadi Party from the saffron camp before the polls will face Surendra Singh Kushwaha from BJP and Mohammad Iliyas Ansari from BSP. Kushwaha is the son of two-time BJP MLA Ganga Singh Kushwaha. As Iliyas hopes to split Muslim votes, Maurya finds the challenge formidable

BANSDIH 2017 | SP

BJP has never tasted victory in Bansidh but its workers are going all out to wrest the seat from SP. In 2017, even during the sweeping Modi wave, veteran SP leader and eight-time MLA Ram Govind Chaudhary (1) won the seat by a margin of less than 2,000 votes. His closest rival Ketaki Singh (2) had contested as an Independent as Bansidh was given to SBSP (now an SP ally). This time, BJP has fielded Ketaki again from the seat. Ketaki has a lot of support of women voters

TAMKUHI RAJ 2017 | CONGRESS

Congress, having only this seat in the region, is banking upon its state president Ajay Kumar Lallu who is striving to be elected as the MLA from the seat for the third time. BJP has fielded Asim Kumar Chaudhary while SP and BSP have pitted Uday Narayan and Sanjay, respectively. Barring Asim, the remaining three are Kushinagar residents. As Asim is from Gorakhpur, the other candidates are raking up the 'outsider' tag for the BJP candidate.

KATEHARI 2017 | BSP

Two prominent political families of Ambedkar Nagar are locked horns at this seat. Sitting MLA Lalji Verma (1) who has been elected five times as BSP candidate, is contesting on SP ticket this time. While BJP ally Nishad Party has fielded Avadhesh Kumar from the seat, BSP has fielded Prateek Pandey (2) to defeat Verma. Prateek is the son of former MLA and muscleman Pawan Pandey who is leading his campaign and reaching out to his voters

MAMATA SHOWN BLACK FLAGS BY BJP WORKERS IN VARANASI

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Gorakhpur

WEST Bengal CM Mamta Banerjee, who landed in Varanasi on Wednesday to campaign in support of Samajwadi Party, was shown black flags while on her way to Dashashwamedh Ghat from airport.

As soon as Banerjee proceeded to Dashashwamedh Ghat, she faced protests at several places when BJP supporters showed her black flags.

In Chetganj, on seeing the black flags by a crowd shouting Jai Shree Ram, the West Bengal CM lost her cool, stopped the car and came out on the road.

Pushing the protestors, Banerjee dared them to come forward with black flags. "You all are losing the elections. These are not black flags but your fear of losing elections," she shouted on the mike. The West Bengal CM also shouted the slogan "Jai UP, Jai Hind".

On getting information about the protests, SP workers gathered at Godowliya Crossing in retaliation. Both the groups of protestors came face to face but were sent away by the police.

After reaching the ghat, Banerjee paid obeisance at Ganga Mandir. She also watched (picture) the famous Ganga Arti while sitting on the stairs of the ghat.

TMC decimates oppn in civic elections

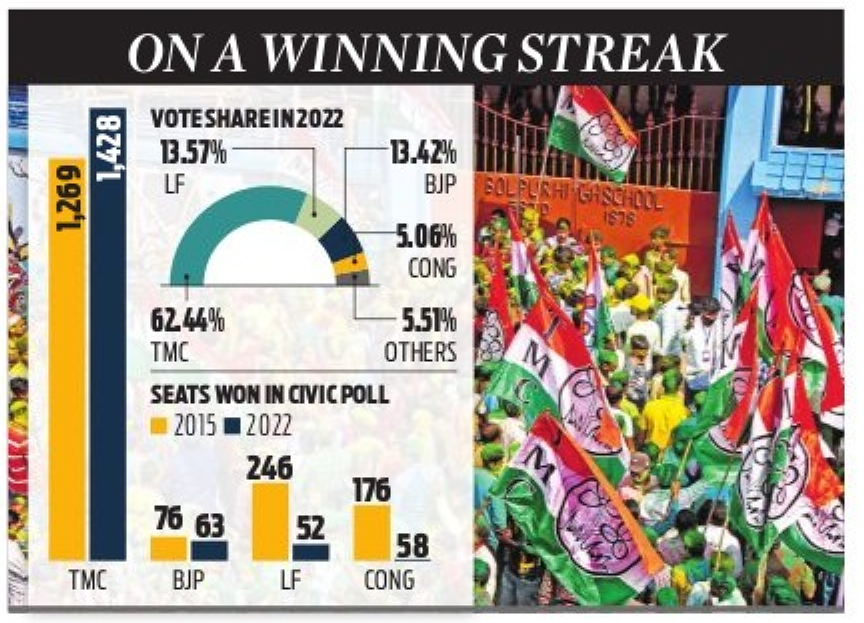
PRANAB MONDAL @Kolkata

DECIMATING the Opposition in West Bengal civic polls, the Trinamool Congress won power in 102 civic bodies out of 108 with having no opposition in 31 municipalities. The Left Front managed to retain only one civic body while the Congress continued bleeding as its stake came down to zero after it received a massive jolt in its Murshidabad stronghold.

Despite making deep inroads in north Bengal in the 2018 Lok Sabha elections, the BJP staged a poor-show in the civic polls failing to win a single civic body. The saffron camp even failed to secure its position ahead of the LF in terms of vote share. In an apparent incentive in its electoral position, the LF seems to have started regaining strength in the municipal elections.

The saffron camp received a massive set back in Contain municipality, the hometown of Suvendu Adhikari, the Leader of Opposition who had defeated Banerjee in last year's Assembly elections from Nandigram constituency. In the Assembly polls, BJP had secured lead in 18 wards out of 21 in the civic body but in the municipal elections, the saffron camp secured victory only in three seats.

ON A WINNING STREAK



Adhikari is a resident of ward 15 in Contain municipality but the BJP could not secure victory from there. TMC's Tanushree Chakrabarty defeated BJP candidate by 228 votes. BJP's state chief Sukanta Majumdar resides in ward 22 of Balurghat but the lotus failed to bloom in this area as well.

Also, the TMC secured victory for the first time in Behrampore municipality, the hometown of Congress's state chief Adhir Chowdhury. The TMC bagged 22 seats out of 28.

Taking jibe at the TMC's victory in his stronghold, Chowdhury said, "They (TMC) could have won all 28 seats. The victory of those six Congress councillors is equivalent to reaching the peak of Everest without oxygen.''

The Congress bled badly in its Murshidabad district citadel as the TMC snatched away all municipalities from the grand old party.

CPI(M) central committee member Sujan Chakrabarty alleged that the results of the civic polls were nothing other than reflection of TMC's muscle flexing.

After the debacle in the civic polls, the BJP on Wednesday called for an introspection meeting on March 5.

Congratulating the candidates who secured victory, TMC supremo Mamata Banerjee tweeted, "Heart-felt gratitude to Ma-Mati-Manush for according yet another overwhelming mandate to us."

Bombay HC allows Teltumbde to visit his mother under police escort

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mumbai

THREE months after his brother's demise in an 'encounter', the Bombay HC on Wednesday allowed activist Anand Teltumbde to meet his nonagenarian mother in Chandrapur between March 8 and 10.

Teltumbde is an undertrial in the Bhima Koregaon-Elgar Parishad case. His brother, Milind, was killed in an alleged encounter in Novermber 2021.

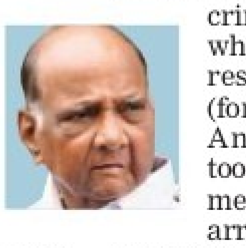
Rejecting NIA's objections to granting the bail, the HC said irrespective of Teltumbde's background, he had lost his brother. The activist will be travelling to Chandrapur under police escort, as per the high court's direction.

No need for Malik's resignation, says NCP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Mumbai

NCP chief Sharad Pawar on Wednesday called a meeting of his party's ministers and leaders during which it was decided that arrested minister Nawab Malik would not be asked to resign despite the repeated demands by the BJP during the Assembly session.

Nawab Malik was arrested by the ED in connection with a money laundering case allegedly linked to the 'D-Company'. After the meeting, NCP state president Jayant Patil said it was not mandatory to seek resignation of a minister until the crime is proven.



Targeting the opposition BJP, Patil said there were efforts to put the Maha Vikas Aghadi ministers in trouble.

"Come what may, we will not seek Malik's resignation. Let the BJP put forth its stand on Malik during the session and an appropriate answer will be given to them," Jayant Patil said.

"If everyday some kind of action is being taken against ministers, it is not mandatory to seek their resignation. If the crime is not yet proved, why should the person resign? In the case of (former home minister) Anil Deshmukh, we took his resignation immediately when he was arrested, but it was later understood that the allegations against him were frail. There are efforts to put our ministers in trouble," he said.

Food irradiator, dung-based power plants soon

The state will soon get a food irradiatior plant that will keep food grains, fruits, vegetables, minor forest produce, among other well preserved. Besides, a separate agreement was inked for setting up of cow dung-based power plants. The state-owned Seed Corporation has signed an MoU with the atomic energy department's Board of Radiation and Isotope Technology for operating the food irradiator plant and the following technology transfer. Chhattisgarh Biofuel Development Authority, with technical expertise from BARC, will set up dung-based power plants in 'gauthans' (cattle shed premises) and the electricity generated will power irrigation machines at rural industrial parks.

Amid local versus outsider argument, IGAU gets VC

chhattisgarh Governor Anusuiya Uikey has appointed Dr Girish Chandel, a domicile of Chhattisgarh, as the new vice-chancellor of the Raipur-based Indira Gandhi Agriculture University (IGAU) ending the issue that triggered a political row over "local versus import of outsiders" accusations. The Congress-ruled government is insisting that the next vice chancellor appointee should be from the state with Chief Minister Bhupesh Baghel citing that there is no dearth of talent within the state and suggesting that the governor shouldn't do politics on the issue. Uikey on the other hand insisted that it's her constitutional right to select the best suited academician/person of eminence for the post irrespective of which place the new incumbent belongs to.

Chhattisgarh cops to campaign against drugs

The Chhattisgarh Police have launched a stern and effective campaign against drugs and peddlers following the directive by CM Bhupesh Baghel to act tough. There were major similar crackdown across the state against organised crime networks involved with drugs, illicit substances and bootlegged liquor. The Raipur police on the basis of intelligence and technical support provided by the narcotics and cyber cell, arrested inter-state drug peddlers and seized a huge stock of drugs and intoxicating stimulants from them. A total of 23 NDPS cases and 1,072 cases related to drugs have been registered recently.

Summer vacation cut short in schools

The Chhattisgarh government has decided to cut short the summer vacation by 15 days for schools which are struggling to get extra time for covering the syllabus. This is done with a goal to effectively engage children in co-curricular activities. Schools will now have to change their schedules for the months of May and June. Parents and students are happy with the decision of the state as school education was immensely affected owing to the pandemic. The teachers too felt that the step will help the schools to compensate for the learning loss rendered by the pandemic.

PREZ ZELENSKYY ACCUSES MOSCOW OF WANTING TO 'ERASE' UKRAINE ● MORE KILLINGS REPORTED, ADDING TO DEATH TOLL OF AT LEAST 350

RUSSIA POUNDS UKRAINE AS KYIV REJECTS 'ULTIMATUMS'

KYIV

RUSSIAN forces shelled several Ukrainian cities on Wednesday as troops battled in the streets of Kharkiv and Ukraine's president accused Moscow of wanting to "erase our country". Russia also said it had captured the Black Sea port of Kherson on the seventh day of Moscow's invasion, while Russian artillery massed outside Kyiv — raising fears of an imminent assault.

Several victims were reported killed by the shelling in southern and eastern Ukraine, adding to a civilian death toll of at least 350 people, including 14 children, according to authorities.

Russia has defied massive economic and diplomatic sanctions and growing global isolation to push on into pro-Western Ukraine, where its forces have encountered stiff resistance.

> The enemy is drawing up forces closer to the capital. Kyiv is holding and will hold. We are going to fight
>
> Vitali Klitschko, Kyiv Mayor

"There is nowhere in Kharkiv where shells have not yet struck," said Anton Gerashchenko, an adviser to Ukraine's interior minister, after Russian airborne troops landed in the city before dawn.

In Kyiv, mayor Vitali Klitschko said "the enemy is drawing up forces closer to the capital".

"Kyiv is holding and will hold. We will fight," the former champion boxer added. Many residents have been hunkered down for a week and dozens of families could be seen sheltering on Wednesday in the Dorohozhychi metro station.

"What happens to us down here when the food runs out? Do we try to get out and run?" said Volodymyr Dovgan, a 40-year-old IT engineer.

With the international community piling pressure on Russia to halt the invasion of Ukraine, the Kremlin said a Russian delegation would be ready to meet Ukrainian officials at an undisclosed location on Wednesday.

A Ukrainian delegation member, David Arakhamia, said there would be talks but did not specify a place, date or time. Ukrainian Foreign Minister Dmytro Kuleba said Ukraine would not hear Russian "ultimatums".

Initial talks on Monday between Russia and Ukraine failed to yield any breakthroughs.

In a video address on Wednesday, Ukraine's President Volodymyr Zelenskyy said Russian forces wanted to "erase our country, erase us all". The leader said Tuesday's strike on a television mast in the capital Kyiv demonstrated Russia's threat to Ukrainian identity.

The UN said nearly 8,75,000 people have fled since the conflict began, including thousands of students and migrant workers from Africa and the Middle East who had been living in Ukraine.

"We left everything there as they came and ruined our lives," said Svitlana Mostepanenko, a refugee registering in Prague. AFP

Ukraine calls on Russian moms to fetch troops

Kyiv: Ukraine on Wednesday invited the worried mothers of Russian troops captured on the battlefield to come and collect their sons, in an apparent attempt to embarrass Moscow. "A decision has been taken to hand over captured Russian troops to their mothers if they come to collect them in Ukraine, in Kyiv," the defence ministry said. Kyiv claims to have captured dozens of Russian servicemen, and has sought to undermine Russian public support for the invasion by opening a telephone hotline for Russian parents to find out if their sons are among them. Third World War, should it break out, will be nuclear, warns Lavrov

MOSCOW

RUSSIAN Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov on Wednesday warned that a third World War, should it break out, will be "nuclear and devastating", amid spiralling tensions with the West over Moscow's ongoing massive military operation against Ukraine.

"A third World War would be a devastating nuclear war," Russia's longtime top diplomat said in an interview to the Al Jazeera television channel. Also, Lavrov stressed US President Joe Biden's remark that a third World War would be an alternative to Washington's tough sanctions against Moscow. Lavrov said that Russia was ready for sanctions that were imposed against it but was surprised that the penalties affected athletes and journalists. "We were ready for sanctions but did not expect that they would affect athletes, intellectuals, actors and journalists," he said, referring to the ban and sanctions by Western countries.

Lavrov said the special operation against Ukraine was launched with the aim preventing Kyiv from obtaining nuclear weapons, the Qatar-based news channel reported. "The military operation in Ukraine, including Kiev, is aimed at disarming the Ukraine. Russia will not let Ukraine obtain nuclear weapons," he said.

Ukrainian President Vladimir Zelenskyy has said that Kyiv might revise its obligations under the Budapest Memorandum, by which Ukraine had agreed to give away nuclear weapons against security guarantees. PTI

US pledges to crack down on Russian oligarchs

Washington: The US Justice Department says it will crack down on Russian oligarchs and anyone else who violates the sweeping sanctions imposed by the Biden administration in response to the war against Ukraine. Attorney General Merrick Garland on Wednesday announced the creation of Task Force KleptoCapture, a team responsible for investigating and prosecuting any violations of new and future sanctions.

Malta halts 'golden passports' for Russians

Rome: European Union member Malta said on Wednesday that it is suspending the processing of applications from Russian and Belarusian nationals for its so-called 'golden passport' program in the wake of EU sanctions on Russia. The much-criticised programme, which grants citizenship or official residence in Malta, was begun as a lucrative source of income for the tiny island nation back in year 2014.

China 'extremely concerned' over civilian casualties

Beijing: China is deeply grieved to see the outbreak of conflict between Ukraine and Russia and "extremely concerned" over civilian casualties, Chinese Foreign Minister Wang Yi has told his Ukrainian counterpart Dmytro Kuleba and called on Kyiv and Moscow to resolve the raging crisis through negotiations. The two ministers spoke for the first time on the phone on Tuesday since violence broke out in Ukraine last week.

Polish border guards beating up Indians at border: Belarus

UNITED NATIONS

BELARUS claimed on Wednesday that Polish border guards beat up around 100 Indian students and turned them back into Ukraine following which they were placed in a refugee camp in Romania.

Belarus Ambassador to the UN Valentin Rybakov made the remarks while delivering a statement in the UN General Assembly on Wednesday.

"On the 26th of February, Polish border guards beat up and turned back into Ukraine a group of around 100 Indian students who then were kindly placed in a refugee camp in Romania," Rybakov said.

In his speech, Ukraine's Ambassador to the UN Sergiy Kyslytsya said one Indian national was killed and one Chinese citizen was wounded in the Russian military operation in his country.

Approximately 8,000 Indians, mainly students, are stranded in Ukraine, Foreign Secretary Harsh Vardhan Shringla had said on Tuesday.

India has been evacuating its citizens through special flights from Ukraine's western neighbours such as Romania, Hungary and Poland as the Ukrainian airspace has been shut down since February 24.

The Ukrainian airspace has been closed for civil aircraft operations since February 24 morning when the Russian military attacked the country. PTI

2K+ MIGRANTS STORM SPAIN'S MELILLA BORDER

MADRID

AROUND 2,500 migrants tried to storm the border separating Spain's Melilla enclave from Morocco on Wednesday in the largest such attempt on record, officials said, but under 500 managed to get across.

Melilla and Ceuta, Spain's other tiny North African enclave, have the European Union's only land borders with Africa, making them a magnet for migrants desperate to escape grinding poverty and hunger.

"This was the biggest entry attempt we have on record," the Spanish government said in a statement, indicating 491 sub-Saharan Africans had managed to cross. The migrants used "hooks" to scale the high fence surrounding the tiny territory and threw stones at cops, it added. AFP

Biden addresses abortion rights, inflation in State of Union speech

WASHINGTON

President Joe Biden is greeted by democrats after delivering his State of the Union address to a joint session of Congress on Capitol Hill in Washington, DC | AFP

PRESIDENT Joe Biden won standing ovation upon standing ovation on Tuesday in a rousing State of the Union speech seeking to transform bipartisan support for confronting Russia into momentum for broader unity as the United States finally emerges from the Covid pandemic. The entire first section of Biden's one hour speech to the joint session of Congress was devoted to the bloody Russian invasion of pro-Western Ukraine.

As Biden branded President Vladimir Putin "a Russian dictator," pledged to help Ukraine's fighters, and vowed to confiscate Russian oligarchs' "ill-begotten" yachts, members of both parties stood to applaud — a sight so rare in today's Congress that it is all but forgotten.

After working for weeks to unite Western allies behind unprecedented economic sanctions against Russia and torrents of military aid to non-NATO Ukraine, Biden painted the picture of what he said was revived global US leadership. "In the battle between democracy and autocracy, democracies are rising to the moment," he said. With many in Congress wearing yellow and blue in tribute to the Ukrainian flag, this was the easy part of the speech for Biden. But the 79-year-old, who faces rock bottom approval ratings and bitter opposition from Republicans still in thrall to Donald Trump, also hoped to try and ride the positive wave into trickier domestic territory.

After months of trying to persuade Americans that inflation is on the verge of receding, Biden this time reached out, stressing that he understands voters' pain. "Too many families are struggling to keep up with their bills," Biden said. "That's why my top priority is getting prices under control." Touching on one of the most divisive issues in the country, he said women's right to abortion in the US is "under attack as never before". Advancing liberty and justice "requires protecting the rights of women," he said. "If we want to go forward — not backward — we must protect access to health care, to preserve a woman's right to choose."

And amid plummeting infection rates, Biden was able to use his speech to try and pivot the country to a more optimistic, post-pandemic future. The United States will "never just accept living with Covid," Biden said. AFP

BharatPe says Grovers misappropriated funds

Adds it reserves all rights to take further legal action against them

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Bengaluru

A day after Ashneer Grover wrote a detailed mail of his resignation, and how he has been vilified by investors, BharatPe on Wednesday lashed out at him for "spinning lies and hurling baseless allegations and threats."

In a statement, the fintech company accused the Grover family and their relatives of extensive misappropriation of company funds.

"Including, but not limited to, creating fake vendors through which they siphoned money away from the company's account and grossly abused company expense accounts in order to enrich themselves and fund their lavish lifestyles," BharatPe said.

It said the company reserves all rights to take further legal action against him and his family. "The Board will not allow the deplorable conduct of the Grover family to tarnish BharatPe' s reputation or that of its hard-working employees and world-class technology. As a result of his misdeeds, Mr. Grover is no longer an employee, a founder, or a director of the company," it said.

The Board is taking all necessary steps to further strengthen the company's corporate governance, including the appointment of an audit committee, an internal auditor, and the implementation of other key internal controls.

When asked about these accusations, in a reply to TNIE, Ashneer Grover said he was appalled at the personal nature of the company's statement, but not surprised.

"It comes from a position of personal hatred and low thinking. I think the Board needs to be reminded of $1M of secondary shares investors bought from me in Series C, $2.5M in Series D and $8.5 M in Series E," he said.

Grover added that he wanted to learn who among Amarchand, PWC and A&M has started doing audit on 'lavishness' of one's lifestyle?

On January 29, BharatPe through its legal firm, Shardul Amarchand Mangaldas, appointed Alvarez and Marsal (A&M), a leading management consultant and risk advisory firm to advise the Board on its recommendations.

He said the only thing lavish about him is his dreams and ability to achieve them against all odds through hard work and enterprise.

'ACTED WITHIN OUR REMIT IN NSE CASE'

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @Mumbai

OUTGOING Sebi chairman Ajay Tyagi said that Sebi had tried in its "right earnest" to resolve the NSE colocation matter and governance lapses at the exchange.

He was responding to queries on whether the regulator had diluted orders against the former NSE management led by Chitra Ramkrishna and whether NSE was let off lightly in the colocation matter, where certain brokers were allegedly given unfair access to exchange data feeds over other members.

"The colocation matter was complex. We have come out with orders within our remit and understanding," he said at a press conference after handing charge to Madhabi Puri Buch, the first woman chair at Sebi.

"Now there are other enforcement agencies which also have their own mandate," said Tyagi, adding that the regulator had and continues to cooperate with the investigating agencies.

Meanwhile, Sebi said, "Madhabi Puri Buch took charge as Chairperson, Securities and Exchange Board of India in Mumbai, today. Ms. Buch has served as Whole Time Member, SEBI till October 04, 2021. She has handled Market Regulation Department, Market Intermediaries Regulation & Supervision Department, …"

Buch holds an M.B.A. from the Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad and is a Graduate in Mathematics from St. Stephen's College, New Delhi.

At Sebi , she handled the Market Regulation Department, Market Intermediaries Regulation & Supervision Department, Integrated Surveillance Department, Investment Management Department, Department of Economic & Policy Analysis, Office of Investor Assistance & Education, National Institute of Securities Markets and Information Technology Department.

NSE MATTER WAS COMPLEX

The colocation matter was complex and Sebi has acted within its remit, Tyagi said at a press conference after handing charge to Madhabi Puri Buch, the first woman chair at Sebi

February trade deficit widens to $21 billion

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

INDIA'S merchandise trade deficit grew to $21.19 billion in February, according to a data released by commerce ministry on Wednesday.

The trade deficit shrunk to five-month low to $17.42 in January 2022 while in December 2021 it was $21.68 billion.

Overall, the countrys merchandise export in the month of February 2022 was $33.81 billion, an increase of 22.36% over $27.63 billion in February 2021.

The merchandise export in April 2021-February 2022 was $374.05 billion, an increase of 45.80% over $256.55 billion in April 2020-February 2021 and an increase of 28.16% over $291.87 billion in April 2019-February 2020.

India's merchandise import in February 2022 was $55.01 billion, an increase of 34.99% over $40.75 billion in February 2021.

The merchandise import in April 2021-February 2022 was $550.12 billion, an increase of 59.21% over $345.54 billion in April 2020-February 2021.

UKRAINE CRISIS

Markets fall on FII selling amid war

RAM SAHGAL @Mumbai

BENCHMARK indices fell over a percent each on global cues as Russian forces advanced closer to the Ukraine capital Kyiv and Western powers ratcheted up sanctions against Russia.

The Nifty swung almost 200 points between high-low to close down 1.12% at 16605.95 while the Sensex gyrated 735 points intraday before ending lower 1.4% at 778.38, as FIIs net sold shares worth a provisional ₹4339 crore, taking their total sales this fiscal to ₹1.07 lakh crore. The session was punctuated by volatility with fear gauge India Vix closing up 2.3% to 29.23. A reading above 20 implies heightened uncertainty.

HDFC Bank, Bajaj Auto, Eveready Industries, Hero Motocorp and Biocon were the main drags on Nifty losing between 1.15% and 3.65% while gainers included Coal India, Tata Steel and Hindalco.

"Indian equity benchmarks will continue to remain volatile, with some voices on the Street anticipating lows of 15500 before stability sets in," said Hormuz Maloo, director, AFco Investments. "The huge volatility has made forecasting ever more difficult but we're likely to encounter more rough weather, punctuated by a bounce here and there. It will be a sell on rise market. "

Trade for Thursday implies more wild swing as it coincides with weekly options expiry. Apart from selling in the cash market, FIIs sold index futures worth ₹3245 crore, implying they expect more downside in the session ahead. "When FIIs sell in cash and in futures they tend to be that much more bearish," said SK Joshi, ED, Khambatta Securities.

Wednesday's sale of index futures has made FIIs cumulatively net short index futures 12493 contracts. Brent crude rose to its highest since July 2014 topping $113 a barrel. The rupee fell 36 paise to close at 75.7, partly due to the FII outflows.

Brent crude prices may hit $150: Report

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

BRENT crude prices in the international market can hit $150 if Russian Energy exports come to a halt, a recent JP Morgan report said.

The report released on Wednesday also noted that the fuel prices in India may be hiked to bridge the ₹9 a litre gap created by international oil prices soaring past $100 a barrel.

"With state elections getting over next week, we expect daily fuel price hikes to restart across both gasoline and diesel," JP Morgan said in a report. The seventh and final phase of polling for the Uttar Pradesh legislative assembly is on February 7 and the counting of votes slated for March 10. The oil price in the International market on Wednesday touched $110 a barrel for the first time since 2014. Similarly, the West Texas Intermediate (WTI) rose 6.33% to $109.74 per barrel.

There is fear that the ongoing tussle between Ukraine and Russia or retaliatory western sanctions may disrupt the supply.

"We estimate that at spot Brent (~$105/bbl) and Diesel prices, the Oil Marketing Companies (OMCs) are losing ₹5.7/ltr v/s normalized margins of ₹2.5/ltr," it said in a report.

"We would caution investors that given the volatility in crude, diesel and forex, these numbers are dynamic and could change from day to day," JP Morgan said.

As per the Petroleum Planning and Analysis Cell (PPAC), the basket of crude oil India buys rose above $102 per barrel on March 1, the highest since August 2014. This compares to an average of $81.5 per barrel price of the Indian basket of crude oil at the time of freezing of petrol and diesel prices in November 2021.

The JP Morgan report also forecasted that the crude oil can rise to $150 per barrel in case of completely shutting Russian oil supply.

However, if the sanctions spared energy transactions but were intensified in other areas, it is believed that crude prices would rise to average$110 in 2Q22 (April-June) with prices spiking to $120 a barrel in the interim as markets priced retaliatory measures by Russia, such as curtailing oil supply.

"To summarise, in the event of completely shutting Russian oil supply (that is partially offset by a resumption of Iran exports and the use of strategic oil reserves), crude oil was forecasted to rise to USD 150 per barrel," reads the report.

Lenders wary about new to credit customers: Cibil

Mumbai: Lenders seem to be turning wary about serving the New To Credit (NTC) customers and showing more preference towards existing borrowers, a report said on Wednesday. Demand for credit continues to accelerate even after the end of the festive season but seems to be driven by consumption and riskier personal loans, and is not resulting in asset creation, credit rating agency Transunion Cibil said in the report. For the three months ended November 2021, the share of NTC in origination volume slid to 14% of customers from 16% in the year-ago period and 17% before the start of the pandemic in 2019, it said.

FMCG industry sees consumption slowdown

SAMIKSHA GOEL @New Delhi

INDIA'S FMCG industry has grown in double-digits to 17.5% for the calendar year of 2021, over last year (2020), according to a Nielsen report. There is, however, a consumption slowdown, with rural markets facing the heat.

The Q4 2021 quarter saw 9.6% growth for FMCG in India over last year primarily based on the double digit increase in prices for three successive quarters, says NielsenIQ's Q4 2021 FMCG Snapshot report.

But the industry witnessed a consumption volume degrowth of 2.6% in the fourth quarter due to inflationary pressure, and other macro-economic factors in the country.

"The price increase continues to impact small manufacturers where the number of small manufacturers (with turnover below 100 crore) dropped by 13%, due to the difficulty of continuing operations with higher costs," the report adds. Large and Medium manufacturers stayed stable.

Diptanshu Ray, South Asia Cluster Lead, NielsenIQ says The country's macro-economic factors continued to witness softness during the quarter. "Within this environment, the calendar year has seen a double-digit growth, though there has to be a watch out for continued consumption degrowth impacted by price increases."

The consumption slowdown continues to be more accentuated in rural markets with -4.8% consumption degrowth, while urban markets are comparatively better at -0.8%. Interestingly, the overall number of stores selling FMCG products in India grew at a CAGR of 4% over the period of 2019 to 2021, with the addition of 800,000 stores in the country, of these 60% opening in Rural India, according to NielsenIQ's Retail Establishment Survey in Q4 21.

RURAL FACES THE HEAT

The consumption slowdown continues to be more accentuated in rural markets with -4.8% consumption degrowth, while urban markets are comparatively better at 0.8%

Fintech players see big opportunity in BNPL

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

THE combination of credit on UPI, Buy Now, Pay Later (BNPL), and branchless banking will drive the next big leap on inclusion. UPI has reached everywhere and digital banking licenses are being talked about, said BharatPe CEO Suhail Sameer (in picture).

Speaking at the FinTech Festival India on Wednesday, he said, "If the BNPL ecosystem is targeted well towards the population who still don't possess credit cards, it is a massive opportunity, and we can leapfrog the number of cards present in the country given the fact that there are 2.5 million card terminals as compared to 25 million QR code terminals."

He added that one of the challenges that BNPL solves is accessibility to smaller but frequent loans, which banks do not cater to as there is a high cost of underwriting, process, and infrastructure.

Sameer said the cost of actual delivery of credit cards into rural towns will be around ₹250-300, and also credit activation rate is 20% now, but in the case of BNPL, the cost involved is just downloading the app, which costs ₹5-6.

A new report released by financial technology company FIS says BNPL is India's fastest-growing online payment method. BNPL is projected to rise to 8.6% of e-commerce market value by 2025, up from just 3% in 2021.

Talking about the next innovation in payments, Sameer said 'Tap on Phone' has a potential to scale up and so do Blockchain and Crypto, though still at the nascent stage.

Vikas Bansal, Director, Amazon Pay India, said, "BNPL model is online and it's embedded into the purchase and retail journey of consumers. It is completely digital and instead of paperwork, one can sign up in less than 60 seconds."

Urban Co's stock option for partners

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

HOME services platform Urban Company will provide stocks worth ₹150 crore to its service partners and gig workers over the next five to seven years under the Partner Stock Ownership Plan (PSOP).

Urban Company said it will set up a trust to manage the PSOP plan, and has already got board approval for the first tranche of ₹75 crore, which will be disbursed over the next 3-4 years.

Raghav Chandra, Co-founder, Urban Company said, "Urban Company's PSOP will help thousands of service partners become shareholders of the company, thereby enabling broad-based wealth creation through equity sharing."

Under this plan, gig workers will become shareholders of the very platform they work with.

Abhinav Chaturvedi, Partner with Accel, and an investor and board member of Urban Company said, "The PSOP plan is a step forward for partners to financially benefit from the value created on the Urban Company platform." As per the UC Earnings Index, partners who delivered at least 30 orders a month, earned ₹30,455 per month, with the top quartile of partners earning ₹38,263 per month. The company said it has invested over ₹100 crore since 2014 in training and skilling of its partners.

Two wheeler sales and stocks skid

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

SHARES of two-wheeler manufacturers on Wednesday tumbled as much as 5% after major players reported over 30% decline in domestic sales in February 2022. India's largest two-wheeler maker Hero Motocorp on Wednesday fell 4.29% to settle at ₹2,427 on the BSE while leading exporter of two-wheelers Bajaj Auto stumbled 4.62% to close the day at ₹3,367 on the NSE.

The fall is mainly attributed to global sell-off seen across markets and poor sales number reported by Original Equipment Manufacturers (OEMs).

The Pulsar-maker Bajaj said that its domestic sales last month stood at 96,523 units as against 1,48,934 units in February 2021, down by a whopping 35%. Two-wheeler exports, where bulk of its sales come from, remained flat in February 2022.

As for Hero MotoCorp, domestic sales last month were down by 31.57% Y-o-Y to 331,462 units in February 2022 while Chennai based TVS Motor and Royal Enfield reported 11% and 10% drop in February 2022 domestic sales, respectively.

GLOBAL INVESTMENT

Indian Investors can now own US stocks for as low as $5-15 a unit

RAM SAHGAL @Mumbai

INDIAN retail investors from March 3 will be able to own top 50 US stocks like Apple, Google, Alphabet, Amazon, Walmart, etc, by shelling out as less as $5-15 on the NSE International Exchange at Gift City, Gujarat.

The cost will work out to two- to three-hundredths of the share's actual value and will be held in the form of depository receipts.

The investment route will be under the Liberalised Remittance Scheme (LRS), whereby RBI permits a resident individual to invest overseas up to $250,000 per year for specified assets, excluding derivatives.

The main draws, apart from owning a slice of the top 50 US stocks by paying a fraction of their values (fractionalisation), will be to have the depository receipt or DR, backed by the share, in one's own demat account opened at NSE IFSC and a competitive exchange rate while buying the American shares, a source in Gift City IFSC told TNIE.

A depository receipt is a bank issued certificate that represents shares of a foreign company traded on a local stock exchange.

Currently, while investors can still invest in fractions of foreign shares through the LRS route, the shares remain in the name of the international broker (omnibus account) with whom the local broker has a tie up. The international broker provides an account statement to shareholders but if it goes bust the shareholder here has a tedious task of approaching US Securities regulator SEC, a time -consuming process, said the source quoted above.

Usually, an investor is charged a high premium by the authorised dealer for forex used to buy the foreign share, claimed another source in Gift City. "At the NSE IFSC, HDFC Bank, which will issue the DR to the international market maker, will also facilitate currency exchange to invest in the DR at the lowest possible cost, resulting in overall cost to trade being significantly lower than that extant currently," added the source.

The NSE IFSC expects millennials among the HNIs to actively trade on its platform. If the platform succeeds in drawing substantial interest of brokers and investors, NSE could add more US stocks to its existing bouquet, it is learnt.

WHAT'S THE PROCESS?

1. NSE IFSC has appointed an international market maker to provide buy-sell quotes to retail investors in Gift City
2. The custodian, HDFC Bank, issues depository receipts to the international market maker who transfers the US shares to the custodian
3. Market maker down-sells DRs to Indian investors on NSE IFSC's trading platform
4. The investor trades through brokers who are members of NSE IFSC and who open demat accounts for them at Gift City's single depository
5. A buyer gets the DR credited in her demat account. To sell she goes through her broker, like a normal transaction, and gets a buy quote from the market maker

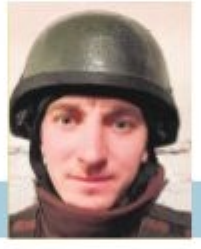
Ukrainian athletes join military after invasion



Less than two weeks ago, Dmytro Pidruchnyi was competing at the Winter Olympics in Ukraine's national colours. Now he's wearing a military uniform. He returned home from Beijing last week just before Russia attacked his country. Tennis player Serhiy Stakhovskiy and former boxing champ Vasyl Lomachenko are some of the other athletes who have joined forces.

Shooters from Belarus and Russia banned

ENS @ Chennai

SHOOTERS from Russia and Belarus won't be allowed to compete in ISSF events, a move that was made by the world body in the wake of the ongoing Russia-Ukraine crises.

"Following the respective decision of the IOC Executive Board and a meeting with the IOC President, the ISSF decided that athletes from the Russian Federation and Belarus will not be allowed to take part in ISSF Championships," the ISSF said in a statement on Tuesday. "This decision entered into force at 16.00 CET (8:30 pm) on March 1, 2022 and is valid until upon further notice," the statement added.

A shooting event is currently undergoing in Cairo, Egypt with as many as 40 entries (10 Belarus, 30 Russia) from the aforementioned two European nations.

WHERE THE MIND IS WITHOUT FEAR

Harmanpreet credits sports psychologist for guiding through tough times and helping the team for the World Cup

GOMESH S @ Chennai

JULY 23, 2017, London. On a rainy evening at the Lord's, the Indian women were well on the course to make history in the ODI World Cup final against England, with Punam Raut and Veda Krishnamurthy putting them in a commanding position. So much so that they would have been crowned champions even if the rest of the evening was rained off as they were ahead of the DLS score by 14 runs after 42 overs in the chase.

They were inching towards getting hold of the trophy that had remained elusive. The long-awaited dream was on the horizon, except that it didn't. Shrubsole trapped Raut on the pads and ran through the rest of the batting as India crumbled from 189/3 to 219/10, falling short by a meagre nine runs. The pressure had got to them.

"They needed around 30 odd runs, and this Mexican wave started. I called up Biju (George) sir (the fielding coach) and I said, 'I'm very much worried now.' Because what happens, you start panicking now and that is exactly what happened. By the time the entire round of the wave ended, we had lost three to four wickets. And that cost us the game," said the then head coach Tushar Arothe.

Soon after the final, Krishnamurthy and Rajeshwari Gayakwad spoke about how having a sports psychologist with the team would have been helpful in high-pressure situations. In 2019, Harmanpreet Kaur told this daily that the team had requested a psychologist to travel with the team to discuss things 'when they are not fine'. It did not transpire, and India went on to lose in another World Cup final in 2020, this time in the shortest format.

Which is why, when India skipper Mithali Raj confirmed ahead of the New Zealand series that they have sports psychologist Dr Mughda Bavare travelling with the team for the ODI World Cup, it was more than a welcome move as this was the first time the team had someone to talk with. And the players are already speaking about its benefits. The latest was Harmanpreet, who after a poor run of form, found her touch in the final ODI and capitalised on it with a century in the warm-up game.

Harmanpreet said that when she went into a shell after not scoring runs, Mugdha reached out to her. "After I spoke to her, I felt I was actually looking for that. I had things in my mind, but I was not aware of it because of lot of pressure, but after talking to her I got the solutions. I got clear ideas after talking to her, those things really helped during the last 2-3 games. I'm sure the team is also benefiting from her, because I can see she's continuously talking to all the players, which is very important and that will really help us," Harmanpreet said on Wednesday.

ICC WOMEN'S CRICKET WORLD CUP NEW ZEALAND 2022

1

DAY TO GO

The conversation around mental health has gained a lot of significance in the last couple of years, with the bio-bubbles and quarantines kicking in. New Zealand stars Sophie Devine and Amelia Kerr took a break last year. Recently, Australia pacer Hannah Darlington and England spinner Sarah Glenn opted out of the World Cup, citing mental health and well-being reasons. Having a psychologist with the team in these circumstances for a tournament like the World Cup becomes even more critical.

Consulting sports psychologist Priyanka Prabhakar, who has worked with the Indian hockey teams and several cricketers, said that a lot of pre-competition work goes on, especially before a high-pressure event like World Cup. "When you are not travelling and hearing from them, you won't be able to understand the missing link or gap. But, when you actually go and see, you'll be able to see things from a psychological perspective and you end up asking the players the right questions and understand them better," she said.

In 2017 and 2020, India almost got their hands on the ICC trophy before succumbing under pressure. This time, however, irrespective of whether they go full-length or not from there, they have given themselves the best chance to handle it mentally when the pressure comes on.

In form K'taka to face Puducherry

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA have been quite impressive in the ongoing Ranji Trophy with one win and a draw (via first innings lead) to secure nine points. Currently, they top their group and will face Puducherry in Chennai, starting Thursday. Manish Pandey and co can secure their knockout berth with a win over their opponents. But if the match turns out to be a draw and Jammu and Kashmir beat Railways in the other game, J&K will qualify with more outright wins.

However, Karnataka should start as favourites to defeat Puducherry with the kind of form their big guns have shown in the competition. In the batting department, Karun Nair rolled back the clock in the last game, with a century and half-century against his name. Besides, the likes of Manish Pandey, KV Siddharth and Ravikumar Samarth have been amongst the runs.

In the bowling department, the availability of Prasidh Krishna, who missed the first game, makes a huge difference to the inexperienced Karnataka pace attack. The pacer comes into the match with a match-winning 10-wicket haul against J&K and will be eager to lead the team from the front. But, he will also need more support from the likes of Vidhyadhar Patil with Rone More not available due to injury.

They have no problems with spinners. Krishnappa Gowtham and Shreyas Gopal are always amongst the wickets. Their ability to bat comes as a bonus.

Puducherry, on the other hand, are out of contention for knockout berths, but they will be eager to end the season on a high with some good showing against Karnataka.

BENGALURU: Garfield Cricketers beat Rajajinagar Colts Cricket Association by one wicket in the KSCA Group I - V Division League for JB Mallaradhya Trophy. Rajajinagar were all out for 308 runs in the first innings and Garfield reached the target in the final over. Kadir Velu NG slammed a ton (125) during the chase.

I-League set to restart with fresh safety measures

MARTIN JOSEPH @ Kochi

THE Covid-enforced break of the I-League was a blessing and a curse for the participating teams. Back in January, the league officials took the big call of postponing the league for six weeks after multiple cases of Covid-19 were reported inside the bio-bubble among the players and staff. As many as 40 players were reportedly infected. With a new bio-bubble in place and the teams and staff entering it, the league is set to resume from Thursday with three matches, including a tie featuring defending champions Gokulam Kerala FC.

While the postponement of the league broke the momentum for the early pace-setters, it was also an opportunity for teams to strengthen. Most teams used the January transfer window to add new players to their squad while the players also got the opportunity to refresh and recharge outside the confines of the bio-bubble.

Abdul Hakku was among the most high-profile signings made by Gokulam and the centre-back, who joined on loan from ISL team Kerala Blasters, summarized how the break helped new arrivals. "The break was frustrating at first, but it helped me get to know my teammates better," he said prior to Gokulam's tie against NEROCA FC.

Paddlers Archana and Sreeja make cut, men exit

NEW DELHI: Indian paddlers Archana Kamath and Sreeja Akula qualified for the women's singles main draw of the WTT Contender Muscat 2022. They will join Manika Batra, who got a direct entry into the round of 32. In the men's singles, however, none of the five players made it to the main draw. It leaves G Sathiyan, another direct entrant into the second stage, to fight for India's honours. He will clash with 16-year-old Chinese Lin Shidong in the round of 32.

Kerala inch closer to semifinals spot in ISL

GOA: Kerala Blasters FC sharpened their semifinal chances with a 3-1 win over Mumbai City FC in their ISL clash here on Wednesday. Alvaro Vazquez (45', 60') scored a brace either side of halftime after Sahal Abdul Samad (19') opened the scoring for the Blasters. It was Diego Mauricio, who found the back of the net for Mumbai. Kerala are now in fourth spot with 33 points from 19 games.

Paralympics: Russians, Belarusians to compete

LONDON: Russians and Belarusians in China for the Beijing Winter Paralympics will compete as "neutral athletes" because of their countries' roles in the war against Ukraine, the International Paralympic Committee (IPC) said. Russian athletes had already been slated to compete as RPC, short for Russian Paralympic Committee, as punishment for the state-sponsored doping scandal.

India hold Davis edge: Ramkumar

AGENCIES @ New Delhi

RAMKUMAR Ramanathan, India's top-singles player in terms of rankings, believes that the hosts hold a slight edge over Denmark in their Davis Cup World Group I playoffs this weekend. The world No 170, yet to win a single singles match in 2022 (0-5), holds that opinion as they are playing on grass.

"We are playing on grass. We know the conditions better than the other team, that gives us a slight edge over any opponent," he said. "We are here early and we have been practising a lot. It is going to be fun. Courts are looking good. So looking forward to the matches." The draw is scheduled for Thursday.

SIXTH MASS EXTINCTION IS HAPPENING

If current rate continues, we could lose most species by 2200; implications for humans dire but not inevitable

CLIMATE CHANGE

ADELAIDE: Species are going extinct at an unusually high rate. Our efforts now will prevent a future too ghastly to contemplate.

Mounting evidence is pointing to the world having entered a sixth mass extinction. If the current rate of extinction continues we could lose most species by 2200. The implication for human health and wellbeing is dire, but not inevitable.

In the timeline of fossil evidence going right back to the first inkling of any life on Earth over 3.5 billion years ago almost 99% of all species that have ever existed are now extinct. That means that as species evolve over time, a process known as speciation, they replace others that go extinct.

Extinctions and speciations do not happen at uniform rates through time; instead, they tend to occur in large pulses interspersed by long periods of relative stability. These extinction pulses are what scientists refer to as mass extinction events. The Cambrian explosion was a burst of speciation some 540 million years ago. Since then, at least five mass extinction events have been identified in the fossil record.

Arguably the most infamous of these was when a giant asteroid smashed into Earth about 66 million years ago in what is now the Gulf of Mexico. Later, species were killed off by climate change arising from pulverised particulates suspended in the atmosphere, as well as intense volcano activity stimulated by the buckling of the Earth's crust from the asteroid's impact. Together, about 76% of all species around at the time went extinct, of which the disappearance of the dinosaurs is most well-known. To be classified as a mass extinction, at least 75% of all the species on Earth must go extinct within a 'short' geological period of less than 2.8 million years. That timeframe seems long to us because modern humans have only existed for about 200,000 years so far.

As a species, humans have been implicated in smaller extinction events going back to the late Pleistocene (around 50,000 years ago) to the early Holocene (around 12,000 years ago) when most of the megafauna such as woolly mammoths, giant sloths, diprotodons and cave bears disappeared from nearly every continent over a few thousand years.

Much later, the expansion of European colonists throughout the world from about the 14th century precipitated an extinction cascade first on islands, and then to areas of continental mainland as the drive to exploit natural resources accelerated. Over the last 500 hundred years, there have been more than 700 documented extinctions of vertebrates and 600 plant species.

These extinctions come nowhere near the 75% threshold to include the modern era among the previous mass-extinction events.

However, the grim outlook does not justify inaction. On the contrary, we could potentially limit the damage if societies around the globe embraced certain fundamental, yet achievable, changes.

We could abolish the goal of perpetual economic growth, and force companies to restore the environment using established mechanisms such as carbon pricing. We could limit undue corporate influence on political decision-making, and end corporate lobbying of politicians. Educating and empowering women, including providing greater self-determination in family planning, would help stem environmental destruction.

With a little effort and longer-term planning, we could make our future just that little bit less ghastly. PTI

FACT OF THE MATTER

UK health staff don't require jab

COVID

Health and social care workers in England will no longer have to have a Covid jab as a condition of employment from later this month, the government said Tuesday. The UK government announced on January 31 that it intended to revoke the regulations subject to the results of a public consultation. The decision was taken because the Omicron strain was less severe than the Delta one, and due to high rates of vaccination of people in the UK. Health Secretary Sajid Javid told Parliament that more than 90,000 health and social care workers and members of the public responded to the consultation.As a result, Javid said the requirement will be lifted on March 15, although he cautioned that frontline staff still had a "professional responsibility" to get jabbed.

Porcupine puppet a big hit

ANIMAL

Percy, a porcupine puppet of prodigious proportions, emerged from her giant stump home for an audience of schoolchildren and media members at a Los Angeles park on Tuesday. A joint project of the San Diego Zoo Wildlife Alliance and Jim Henson's Creature Shop, Percy was let out to celebrate next week's opening of the zoo's new Wildlife Explorers Basecamp. Six months in the planning, the puppet is modeled on the prehensile-tailed porcupine, native to South America. It has a circumference of nearly 40 feet (12 meters), and has 2,000 foam quills that it took a house-worth of paint to put stripes on. After another media stop, Percy will make her way down the coast to her permanent home at the San Diego Zoo.

Open-pit mining ban in Honduras

ENVIRONMENT

TEGUCIGALPA: The government of newly elected Honduran President Xiomara Castro has banned open-pit mining, declaring it harmful to the environment and to people, and said it would scrap permits for such operations. The move, announced Monday by the leftist leader, was met with joy by rights defenders and environmentalists.

"All Honduran territory is declared free of open-pit mining," a statement from the Ministry for Mining and the Environment said. "The approval of extractive exploitation permits is canceled because they... threaten natural resources and public health and limit access to water as a human right," it added.

Taking office on January 27, Castro announced that banning open-pit mining was one of her priorities, along with fighting crime, poverty and corruption that she said was rife under her predecessor Juan Orlando Hernandez. The ministry also vowed to intervene "immediately" to conserve areas of "high ecological value" and secure their benefit to the population. The office of the UN High Commissioner for Human Rights in Honduras welcomed the ban in line with "the protection of natural resources, public health and access to water as a human right."

But Santos Gabino Carvajal of the National Association of Miners described the announcement as "ambiguous" and potentially in violation of mining legislation. It "prohibits even the extraction of stone and sand for construction," he said, adding the move would "kill the possibility of development." AFP

Russian-EU Mars rover unlikely to launch in 2022

SPACE

PARIS: A Russian-European mission to land a rover on Mars is "very unlikely" to launch this year due to sanctions over Moscow's invasion of Ukraine, the European Space Agency said.

The launch of the Rosalind Franklin rover, whose mission is to drill into Martian soil to seek out signs of life, was originally planned for 2020 but postponed due to Covid-19 and technical delays.

In January the ESA declared the ExoMars mission ready to launch this September, with Russia providing the launcher, descent module and landing platform.

However after Russia shocked the world by invading Ukraine last week and the European Union responded by targeting Moscow with a massive package of economic punishments, the ESA said "the sanctions and the wider context make a launch in 2022 very unlikely".

"We are fully implementing sanctions imposed on Russia by our member states," the ESA said in a statement on Monday. "We deplore the human casualties and tragic consequences of the war in Ukraine. We are giving absolute priority to taking proper decisions, not only for the sake of our workforce involved in the programmes, but in full respect of our European values."

The ESA also said it took note of the Russian space agency Roscosmos' decision over the weekend to suspend launches and withdraw its workers from Europe's spaceport in Kourou, French Guiana, over the EU sanctions.

It will "consequently assess" future planned operations using Russian launchers, including the deployment of two satellites for Europe's Galileo GPS system planned for this year.

The invasion of Ukraine and responding Western sanctions have raised a question mark over joint space programmes with Russia, most notably for the International Space Station, where astronauts and cosmonauts work side-by-side.

After Moscow raised the prospect of withdrawing from the ISS over US sanctions, NASA said Monday it was exploring ways to keep the space station in orbit without Russian help. AFP

LAUNCHED: US WEATHER SATELLITE

NASA

CAPE CANAVERAL: America's newest weather satellite blasted off Tuesday to improve wildfire and flood forecasting across the western half of the country.

It's the replacement for a satellite launched exactly four years ago, which ended up with a cooling line blockage that hindered its main camera. The National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration said the new model is redesigned to avoid the problem. It will be designated GOES-18 after reaching an equatorial orbit 22,000 miles (36,000 kilometers) up. The first images should come next year, following months of testing.

This is the third in a nearly $11.7 billion series of four GOES weather satellites that are among the most advanced ever built; the cost includes decades of operation. The first soared in 2016 to track Atlantic hurricanes and other East Coast weather, while the second lifted off March 1, 2018. The fourth is set to launch in 2024.

The first two satellites in the series captured video of the rocket soaring out over the Atlantic from Cape Canaveral.

GOES-17 — which is losing as much as 10% of its data because of overheating camera detectors — will be moved aside as an orbiting spare, once the newly launched craft is ready to take its place next year over the Pacific. Each is the size of a small school bus, weighing more than 6,000 pounds (2,700 kgs). Besides observing conditions here on Earth, the satellites also monitor solar flares and the resulting space weather. AP

DAY'S DIARY

Swiss neutrality

On March 3, 2002, the population of Switzerland narrowly voted to join the United Nations. Just 55 per cent were in favour of joining

UN'S ACCEPTANCE

It was a significant change in direction, compared to the referendum on the issue in 1986. In September that year, UN accepted Switzerland as the 190th member state

INFLUENCE

The fall of the Berlin Wall in 1989 contributed to the decline in importance of Swiss neutrality and the fall of the last ideological barrier within the country

FOLLOWING FINLAND

Switzerland's foreign minister, Joseph Deiss said it would retain its sovereignty and neutrality in the manner of other neutral UN member countries like Finland

RACING AHEAD

THIS B'LURU TEEN WHO FELL IN LOVE WITH CARS EARLY ON IS MAKING GREAT HEADWAY IN THE INDIAN MOTORSPORTS ARENA

> The path that I have chosen has definitely not been easy. Motorsports is an expensive sport as well. Dad really works hard in helping me achieve my dream. It was pretty hard starting off in India as there is not much of a platform in motorsport, but it is growing
>
> Ruhaan Alva, racer

ASHIM SUNAM

FIFTEEN-year-old Ruhaan Alva is gradually making a big name in the Indian motorsports arena. The Bengaluru teen fell in love with cars early on when he was presented with a toy car by his dad at the age of three. He would spend hours driving that around the house. It was just big enough to fit through the kitchen door but that area soon became his drifting zone. His father Umakanth, who was a rallyist himself during his younger days, realised his son's interest in the sport as well. It was around 2012-13 when his father took him to a karting track in Bengaluru, and Ruhaan has never looked back ever since. He also went to the United Kingdom to test go karts the same year and learned more about it and featured in some races then in the UK too.

"I started when I was around eight years old. My dad used to rally when he was younger. He always had that passion. So when I was a kid, he took me to the karting track in Bengaluru and I loved it. I also went to the UK and learned a lot there, which helped me in my career," says Ruhaan.

From there on, he has showcased his racing talent all over the world, winning races both in India and abroad. He is also the first Indian to win a race at the Easykart Championship in 2017 in Italy, one of his earliest feathers in his cap. Overall, he finished an impressive overall second in the championship. His first overall championship win came in 2019, winning the X30 Championship title in India.

The Bengaluru youngster also delivered big time in the recently-concluded JK Tyre Federation of Motor Sports Club of India (FMSCI) National Racing Championship, winning the Novice Cup in style, 18 points ahead of second placed Jaden Pariat. He is expected to feature in the LGB 4 Formula category in the same championship. However, his rise to the top has not been easy. His father, who is into construction business, has been a huge support.

"The path that I have chosen has definitely not been easy. It is an expensive sport. Dad really works hard in helping me achieve my dream. It was pretty hard starting off in India as there is not much of a platform in motorsport, but it is growing. It is also great to see many new drivers coming up," says Ruhaan, who found it tough to balance between motorsports and academics.

One also needs to applaud the dedication of the racer, who opted for home-schooling to dedicate more time to prepare for races and events in the last two years or so. Ruhaan dreams big of racing in the Formula One circuit, which is not an easy climb as racers need major sponsors. "You are not going to make money until you reach Formula One or Formula E. It is pretty hard. That is why you need sponsors as you go along. As you keep climbing up, it gets more and more expensive."

Say hello to the metaverse of the food world, where you have to play a virtual game to dine offline

READY OR NOT, FOODVERSE IS HERE

ANILA KURIAN

> While we're still finalising the game that we'd like to be played, one of them could be a treasure hunt of sorts. Perhaps find ingredients that would make a final dish, win points through that and avail those online points at your nearest Farzi Cafe restaurant
> Zorawar Kalra, owner, Farzi Cafe

WE'VE all imagined a world where we could download food right with a click of a button. While that might still take time, tech geeks are working within the metaverse world and connecting it to the real world. So how does it work, you ask? You play a game online, win some points and head to the nearest restaurant (ideally the offline version of the metaverse restaurant you were playing at) and avail the prize.

Farzi Cafe in UB City is one of the first restaurants in the city to join this bandwagon with a metaverse gaming company called OneRare. Restaurateur and owner Zorawar Kalra explains, "Metaverse is internet 2.0. We are now using it to search, explore and build a community in it. Ten years ago, if restaurateurs were told to join Insta, they wouldn't have agreed but every brands see the necessity of their presence online. Similarly, this is where the future lies."

The development stage of this virtual world is still underway. The brand has several games planned for potential customers to play worldwide. "While we're still finalising the game that we'd like to be played, one of them could be a treasure hunt of sorts. Perhaps find ingredients that would make a final dish, win points through that and avail those online points at your nearest Farzi Cafe restaurant," says Kalra, adding that this is applicable to players across the globe.

The main idea of joining this metaverse, or foodverse as it's called, is for community building. The brand feels this will introduce the restaurant to more people, know their environment before they actually dine at the place. "The metaverse will see a Farzi Cafe at the location which will include elements from all the branches we have across the world. This should be available in a couple of months," assures Kalra, adding that there will be more than one game available.

Meanwhile, working on this is the OneRare team. Kayaash Singh, VP – growth & international business, says, "Building the virtual restaurant isn't that time consuming but it's the blockchain that will take more time." They are launching a test game next week and the main layer will be available in April. "The rewards players can avail from this can be NFTs or OneRare points which currently has a market rate of $7. This model completely depends on how the brand wants to market it," he says, adding that the team wants to work with restaurants that are available globally so that more participants can avail the offline offers.

WHAT IS METAVERSE?

Metaverse is a digital space where NFTs and digital or virtual currencies and assets are traded. NFTs (non-fungible tokens) are a digital form of collectibles bought and sold through virtual currencies.

IN THE NEWS

In Feb, a report stated that fast-food joint McDonald's has filed trademarks for virtual restaurants in the metaverse. The company has filed 10 applications with the US Patent and Trademark Office.

Parikrma Humanity Foundation is organising a 3-day science festival on climate change

EXPRESS FEATURES

CLIMATE change is staring at us and there is 'no planet B'. This is the theme of the 8th edition of the Parikrma Festival of Science 2022 (PFoS), a three-day science festival on climate change. Organised by Bengaluru-based non-profit organisation Parikrma Humanity Foundation, the annual science festival focuses on creating a space for discussions on science and society among the student community.

The primary purpose of the festival is to support a multidisciplinary and critically engaging learning process for students. According to Shukla Bose, CEO of the foundation, over 325 students from 35 schools across different cities and also overseas, have registered for the virtual science festival beginning March 3. "Educating children on climate change is critical and this can happen not from textbooks but by bringing in experts from this field who will share their perspectives. We have got distinguished speakers from across the environment spectrum who will be having an interactive session with the students for the next three days," says Bose. The foundation also cites that in the year 2021, natural disasters across the globe led to insured losses of over $100 billion and ten climate-related events cost $170.3 billion.

Shukla Bose

India alone witnessed two of such 10 most financially devastating climate events in 2021. Therefore this year's festival aims to delegate each student group to represent a particular country and come up with a long term plan to mitigate climate change. This will be conducted in the form of a mock COP 27 (Conference of the Parties) Climate Summit on March 5 to engage student groups in dialogues and explore the science and sociopolitics of climate change. The country that comes up with the most innovative step to mitigate climate change and universally accepted pledge will be recognised during the event.

Some of the speakers for the festival include Dr Harini Nagendra, director of the research centre at Azim Premji University, who will talk about 'Biodiversity, climate change and cities'; Dr Chitralekha Massey, OHCHR (Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights) regional representative, United Nations, will speak about 'Climate Change in the Sustainable Development Goals of UN'; and Grammy winner Ricky Kej will address 'viewing climate change crisis through music'.

"In many ways, a lot begins from the mountains which will later impact the ground level. This will be addressed through a session called 'Changing Climate in the High Mountains' by climate experts," says Bose.

FIT BIT

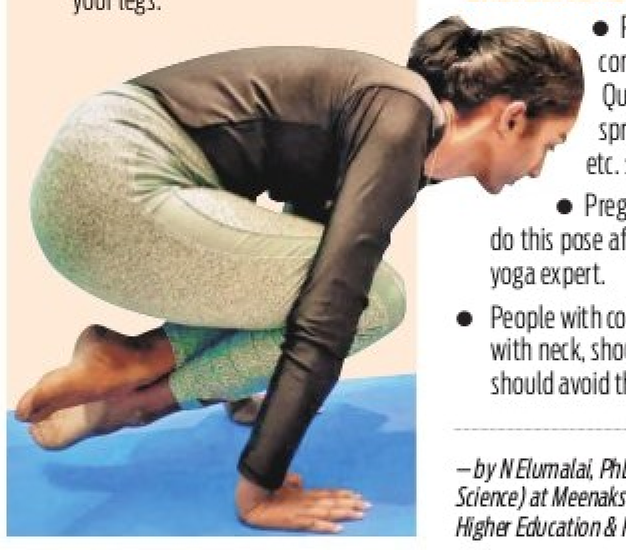
LOLASANA

(PENDANT POSE)

This is an intermediate arm-balancing and core-strengthening posture. Here, a practitioner's body remains hanging in the air, supported by the hands. Preparatory postures are key to safely and correctly practising pendant pose. Among them are downward-facing dog pose, plank pose, boat pose, cow face pose and side plank pose. This pose strengthens the wrist, forearms, shoulders, and tones up core muscles, upper back. It requires immense strength in the hands along with a sharp focus to remain in the posture. Practise in the presence of an expert.

STEPS

- Kneel down. Keep your head and torso perpendicular to the ground (like Vajrasana).
- Breathe in, align your body, and place your hands on either side of your knees. Make space between your shoulder blades and breathe out.
- Inhale, engage your core, and thrust it towards your upper back. Exhale, raise your torso upwards, and place your palms on the floor. Try to lift your body off the ground.
- Push the heel up and ensure that the ankles stay crossed. Contract your abdomen to give strength to your hands and hold the pose.
- After holding for about 30 to 60 seconds or according to your comfort, release core muscles, lower down your body. First, uncross your ankles and then your legs.



BENEFITS

- This asana helps to improve balance.
- It aids digestion by massaging the abdominal organs.
- Regular practise strengthens wrists, arms, shoulders and back muscles.
- It also helps to develop abdominal muscles.
- It is helpful to improve concentration.
- It treats respiratory and abdominal disorders.
- This asana helps you burn a lot of calories by harnessing the movement of core muscles.
- The abdominal contraction while doing this asana also helps in improving your digestion.

LIMITATIONS

- People who have a condition such as De Quervain's Syndrome, sprain, dislocations, etc. should avoid.
- Pregnant women should do this pose after consulting a yoga expert.
- People with conditions associated with neck, shoulder, or vertebrae, should avoid this.

—by N Elumalai, PhD scholar (Yoga Science) at Meenakshi Academy of Higher Education & Research, Chennai

...a love for playing sports and an injury? Find out if an ACL injury indicates the end of a career for athletes

DR CHIRAG THONSE

PROFESSIONAL sports bring with it fame, money, and fan-following. However, injuries can result in severe knee problems. An injury to the ACL of the knee during sports may cause irritability, pain and inflammation and may affect the ability to play further. It is thus necessary to reduce the occurrence of factors that increase the risk of ACL injury and to treat it appropriately.

Anterior Cruciate Ligament and Meniscus

The anterior cruciate ligament is a ligament that connects the femur to the tibia. There are two C-shaped structures present in the knee that act as a cushion between the thigh bone and tibia (shinbone) and are known as meniscus.

ACL and knee stability

The primary task of the ACL is to stabilise the knee, especially during the front and back movement and pivoting movement of the knee. It comprises mechanoreceptors that help detect the changes in acceleration, tension, speed, and direction. It also has sensory receptors that maintain proprioception and kinaesthesia. These mechanisms play a critical role in neuromuscular control over the knee joint. It provides functional stability to the knee.

Injury pattern

There are two types of ACL injuries — contact, and non-contact injuries. Quick change of direction, landing and jumping are non-contact injuries. The contact injuries include the player-to-player collisions that directly hit the knee.

Sports prone to ACL injuries

Players associated with those sports that require a sudden change of direction and excessive tension on the knee joint are more prone to ACL injuries. Such sports include netball, football, basketball, downhill skiing, gymnastics, handball. ACL injuries may also occur due to PTA and swift fall at home.

Types of ACL injuries

Depending upon the severity, the injuries are of various grades. Grade 1 injury involves mild damage, and the ligament stretches slightly. The knee joint is stable in Grade 1. In Grade 2, the ligament becomes loose due to excessive stretching. It is also known as a partial ligament tear. Grade 3, the most severe form, involves a complete ligament tear, causing instability in the knee joint.

Conservative treatment

The doctor may recommend rehabilitation therapy to patients with a milder ACL injury. The rehabilitative treatment may continue for several weeks, depending upon the severity of the injury. Several exercises are available for reducing pain and swelling and for improving knee stability. Rehabilitative therapy restores knee motion and strengthens the muscles. Rehabilitative therapy is effective in those patients who are usually engaged in recreational activities, have relatively low physical activity, and engaged in sports that put less stress on the knees.

Surgical management

The doctor may recommend the surgery when the patient has an injury in other tissues of the knee along with ACL injury. The patient may also undergo surgery in high grade (complete) ACL tears. Surgery is more likely in those patients engaged in sports that involve excessive tension on the knees. During the surgery, the doctor replaces the damaged ligament with a tissue graft. The doctor may obtain tendons for grafting from other knee parts.

Returning to sports after surgery

The return to play after ACL injury depends upon several factors. These are the severity of the damage, other accompanying injuries, and type of sports. Studies concluded that 81 per cent of the patients return to any competition within one year after ACL surgery.

MISS-FIT

Wanitha Ashok

Wanitha Ashok is a Fit India Movement Ambassador and celebrity fitness coach

I am 38. My teenage daughter is losing weight faster than me. We eat the same food... What is it that works for her and not me?

Simple, uski paas metabolism hai (she has metabolism)! With age, our metabolism comes down due to lean muscle mass loss and hormonal changes. Strength training helps converse age-related muscle degeneration. Every decade the body composition changes... post 35, you automatically gain 4-5 kgs. One way to address this is to include strength training to build lean muscle mass. A combination of body weight and external resistance is recommended. Muscles eat, they are expensive tissues and the body relies on stored fat to sustain provided you create a calorie deficit and expend calories via exercise. So, go ahead, and pick weights to lose weight.

Q&A

I went on a fruit detox and realised I consumed more calories than what I usually do. Will the diet still work?

No way! Your body cannot survive on fructose, fibre, vitamins and minerals that fruits offer. It also requires protein, complex carbs and healthy fats. Most are high in calories and therefore the excess calories are converted into fat by the body and stored away. Do not follow fad diets, go back to your roots and learn to eat in moderation, consume fewer calories and exercise. Try this: it's safe, effective and healthy.

My partner told me sex is a workout too. Does it help me burn calories?

Oh yes, it does burn calories. But you still need to workout — cardio, strength and flexibility. You need to work on cardio-respiratory strength and endurance, muscular strength and endurance. This can be achieved via appropriate exercises.

Living with Parkinson's disease

Here's all you need to know about the age-related issue that affects more men as compared to women

DR RAVI GOPAL VARMA

PARKINSON'S disease is a neurodegenerative disorder that affects predominantly dopamine-producing ("dopaminergic") neurons in a specific area of the brain called substantia nigra. The disease begins gradually and deteriorates over the long run. Those suffering from Parkinson's disease exhibit symptoms such as shaking of limbs, muscle stiffness, and trouble walking and maintaining their balance and coordination. As the disease worsens, they additionally experience difficulty in talking, disturbance of sleep, problems with memory, psychological issues, behavioural changes, and various other side effects.

Data suggests that men are more prone to get this disease as compared to women. It is most commonly seen in persons aged 60 years and above. However, up to 10 per cent of patients are diagnosed before the age of 50. Doctors predict that about 10 per cent to 15 per cent of people with Parkinson's disease may have a genetic mutation that inclines them to the development of the disease. Environmental factors may also play a role in its development.

Symptoms

Symptoms of Parkinson's disease and the rate of decline vary widely from person to person. The most common symptoms include:

1. Tremor: Shaking typically starts in the arms and interferes with grasping. It can likewise involve the jaw or foot. As the illness advances, tremors become more severe.
2. Slowness of movement (bradykinesia): The slowing down of movement results from a delay in the transmission of impulses from the brain to the different muscles of the body. There can be a rapid deterioration of this symptom over a short duration of time
3. Rigid muscles/stiff limbs: Rigidity results from a failure of the muscles to recoil and relax normally. It is accompanied by a continuous straining of muscles and interferes with the free movement of the limbs.
4. Muscle spasms and cramps (dystonia): Can affect different parts of the body and are painful. Curling and clenching of toes are commonly seen
5. Stooped posture: A "curved over" posture.
6. Decreased facial expressions: As the disease worsens, the muscles of the face may get involved leading to a mask-like expressionless face.
7. Speech/vocal changes: Speech may be quick, become slurred, or be soft in tone.
8. Depression and anxiety, Chewing and swallowing problems, drooling, memory loss, are a few other symptoms.

Diagnosis

Currently, no laboratory or radiological tests exist to diagnose Parkinson's disease. The diagnosis therefore hinges on a thorough medical history and clinical examination findings. Additionally, neurologists may administer phenyltropane injection and use a gamma camera to distinguish and evaluate dopamine transporter function. They may also recommend a PET Scan. An MRI scan may reveal stroke changes in the brain, indicating the possibility of vascular Parkinsonism.

Treatment

Parkinson's disease, fortunately, has a successful treatment. The medical treatment along with Deep Brain Stimulation (DBS) has brought about a revolution in the management of Parkinson's disease.

DBS is a functional surgery where electrodes are placed in specific areas of the brain and stimulated with the help of a pacemaker placed in the chest wall. In this case, the pacemaker is unique as it has the capability to receive feedback from the brain and relay the exact amount of stimulation on demand to the implanted electrodes for the brain to function accordingly.

As the patient begins to show signs of improvement, the medications are reduced. The surgery is highly beneficial in alleviating the symptoms of Parkinson's disease and reducing the patient's dependence on medicines. DBS is a breakthrough technology that stops the tremors and rigidity associated with Parkinson's disease, enabling the patient to live a normal and dynamic life.

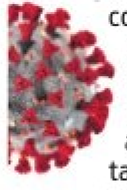
Cocktail antibody to prevent, treat Covid



The researchers from Capital Medical University and Chinese Academy of Sciences developed the bispecific human monoclonal antibody against SARS-CoV-2, combining a non-competing pair of human neutralising antibodies to target two antigens, blocking the virus from binding to its receptor. The double-kill antibody has shown greater neutralising efficiency than its parental ones, according to the study published in Nature Immunology this week. — IANS

SARS-CoV-2 invaded cells in penis of monkeys: Study

A study on rhesus macaques by a team of US researchers showed that SARS-CoV-2 may infect tissue within the male genital tract. The study demonstrated that the Covid virus infected the prostate, penis, testicles and surrounding blood vessels in three male rhesus macaques. The study indicates that symptoms like erectile dysfunction reported may be caused directly by the virus, not by inflammation or fever that often accompany the disease. — IANS

KICHCHA SUDEEP DUBS IN ENGLISH FOR VIKRANT RONA

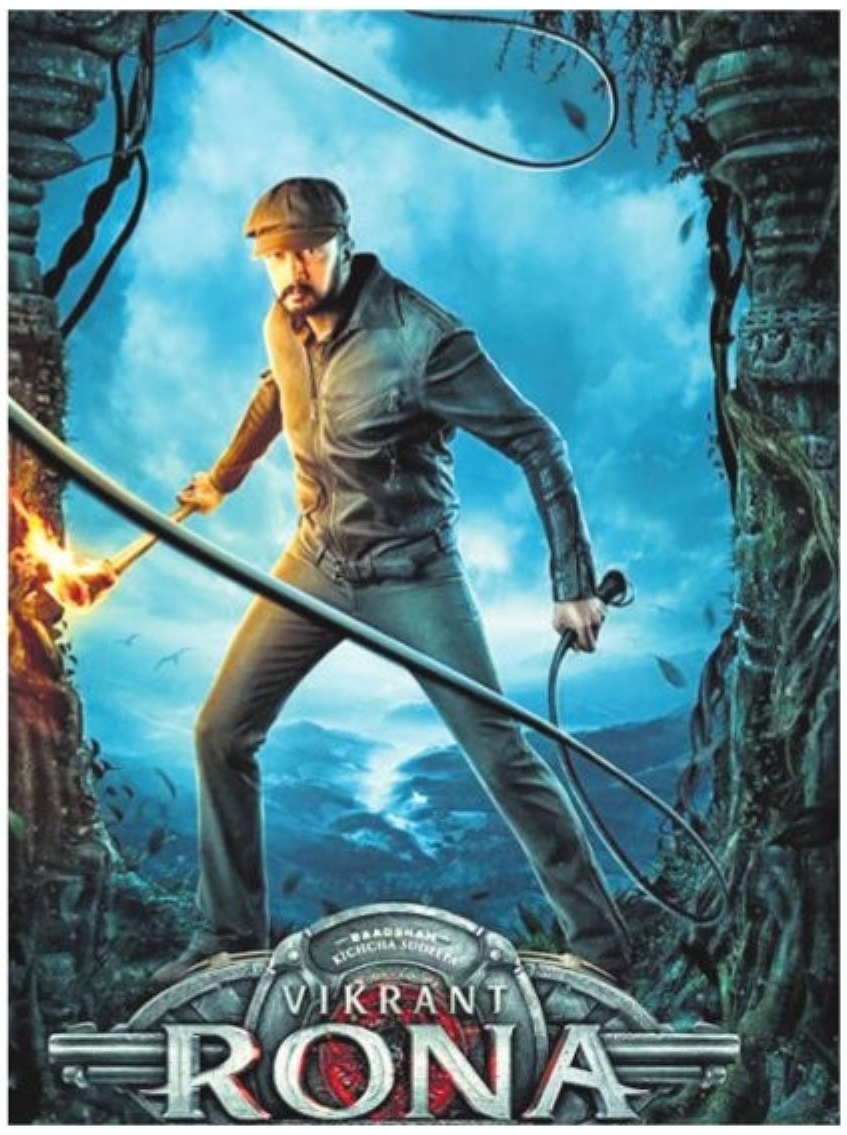
Sudeep becomes the first Kannada superstar and one of the few from India to to dub for a full-fledged commercial entertainer to be out in 3D



#VikrantRonaInEnglish @KicchaSudeep sir completes dubbing for the English version. First Kannada superstar & one of the few from India to dub for a full fledged commercial movie in English #VikrantRona

— Anup Bhandari, director

A SHARADHAA

SUDEEP starrer -Vikrant Rona directed by Anup Bhandari is gearing up to release the film in multiple languages. The film in 3D takes pride in being the first full-fledged commercial entertainer from Kannada to be dubbed and released in English and in other foreign languages. Interestingly, Sudeep has himself dubbed for the English version, which was revealed by the makers on the director's birthday.

Anup tweeted, "#*VikrantRona*InEnglish @KicchaSudeep sir completes dubbing for the English version. First Kannada superstar & one of the few from India to dub for a full-fledged commercial movie in English. (sic)," Sudeep, one of the Kannada superstars, who has made a name in the south and Bollywood will be among the few Indian actors to have dubbed in English for a film. Speaking about the process of dubbing in English Anup explained that it was quite different from the usual dubbing process undertaken for Indian languages, and it needed a different approach. "The dialogue delivery had to be reworked to match with the body language. It was a big challenge for me from the writing perspective. However, it was not difficult for him because he has been doing this for many years, and he is good at it." Anup added, "Secondly, his baritone voice is what makes a difference. He immediately picked it up," and informed that Sudeep took 3 days to dub for the English version.

The film presented by Zee Studios is a multilingual action-adventure that will see a worldwide release in 14 languages and 55 countries. An update from the director is that the work is progressing in full swing, and the production house is working to get a good release date.

Vikrant Rona produced by Manjunath Gowda under Shalini Arts in association with Alankar Pandian also stars Nirup Bhandari, Neetha Ashok, along with Jacqueline Fernandes playing an important role. The team had earlier announced plans to release the film on February 24, but Vikrant Rona was postponed. The film's music scored by Ajaneesh B Loknath has William David handling the cinematography.

'BILLA RANGA BASHA, ASHWATTHAMA, AND VIKRANT RONA 2 ARE IN DIFFERENT STAGES OF WRITING'

Anup Bhandari

... says director Anup Bhandari, who opens up about his next projects with Sudeep

CE FEATURES

IT is confirmed that Anup Bhandari is collaborating with Sudeep for a film after Vikrant Rona. However, the title and other details of the next project are unclear. Anup Bhandari is currently working on three projects for Sudeep - Billa Ranga Basha, Ashwatthama, and Vikrant Rona 2.

Going by the earlier reports, it was speculated that Ashwatthama will be the first project to go on floors. Meanwhile, news about Billa Ranga Basha turned out to be the talk of the town.

So, CE asked Anup which one among the three projects will go on floors first, he says, "Right now, I have three good scripts - Billa Ranga Basha, Ashwatthama, and Vikrant Rona 2. Each one is at a different stage of writing. I have discussed all three scripts with Sudeep, who will take a call on which film should be shot first. All the three scripts are exciting, and that's why he chose to have all of it ready."

Lindsay Lohan to star in two new Netflix films

CE FEATURES

LINDSAY Lohan is expanding her partnership with Netflix, signing a deal to star in two new films for the streaming service.

Lindsay Lohan is also starring in Netflix's upcoming holiday-centric romantic comedy Falling for Christmas, which will premiere later this year.

Falling for Christmas marks Lindsay Lohan's first acting role in years. In the film, she plays a newly engaged, spoiled hotel heiress who gets into a skiing accident and suffers from total amnesia. During her recovery, around Christmas time, she finds herself in the care of a handsome, blue-collar lodge owner (Chord Overstreet) and his precocious daughter.

Pradeep Bogadi

'Yellow Board has a global connect, and it will be relatable to each citizen'

CE FEATURES

WITH just six films in the past 11 years, actor Pradeep Bogadi does admit that his career hasn't had smooth sailing. "Right from my first film to Yellow Board, every release has been a challenge. I must say that people have appreciated my acting, and so have the critics. However, they did have an issue with the story of my films," says Pradeep, who adds that pandemic delayed the release of his latest, Yellow Board. "Now we have come to a stage where films that were stocked up are rushing to find a release date. But I'm not giving up yet, and ready to fight," says the actor ahead of the release of Yellow Board on March 4.

Pradeep asserts that the title Yellow Board has a global connect, and it will be relatable to each citizen. Talking about the Trilok Reddy directorial, Pradeep, who plays a cab driver, says, "Whether it is a taxi, auto, tempo traveller, luggage auto, or lorry, even if the Yellow Boards stop for a day, the whole country is at a halt, and the citizens are in trouble. Especially with the various apps that are coming up, everyone has started depending on taxis and autos."

> Whether it is a taxi, auto, tempo traveller, luggage auto, or lorry, even if the Yellow Boards stop for a day, the whole country is at a halt, and the citizens are in trouble.
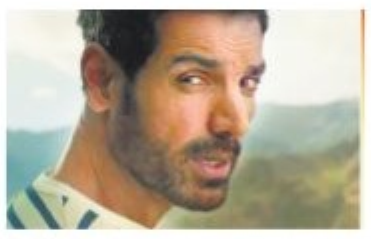
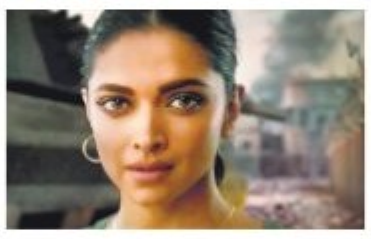
> Pradeep Bogadi, actor

Yellow Board also throws light on the dignity of labour. "The only disadvantage is when a few cab drivers' behaviour puts the entire cab drivers' association at stake. People usually tend to take their frustration on Yellow board drivers because they are the easy targets, because they don't have money or influence. They earn only peanuts as remuneration. This is the kind of content we have brought out in the film, which also traces the journey of an ordinary cab driver."

Pradeep claims that a film on cab drivers is the first-of-its-kind in Kannada cinema. "The climax is very inspiring, and it is another reason to take up this film. However, nothing will be preachy " says Pradeep, who apparently only travelled by cabs for a month before shooting. "I used to take the rides just to observe their mannerisms at different timings. After watching them, I also decided to give a message for the drivers in the film. Secondly, I have only five costumes to wear in the film including white and white. The way my character carries himself on screen will change the audience's perspective on cab drivers.

Finally, what message you would like to pass on with Yellow Board? "They earn for themselves, and they are happy with their work. The film also talks about the relationship between cab drivers and passengers," says Pradeep, who is working with debut director Trilok in Yellow Board. "Choosing a director becomes tough like a chess game. A few directors narrate well but fail in executing it, or vice versa. It is a creative aspect, and it is a big challenge for an actor to see how the vision comes on screen," he says





Pathaan to release on January 25, 2023

CE FEATURES

YASH Raj Films has announced the release date of Pathaan with a teaser. The Shah Rukh Khan-starrer film will release in theatres on January 25, 2023.

SRK's look isn't disclosed, though a recent soft drink commercial has taken care of that. We also learn that Pathaan — played by Shah Rukh — got his name from his comrades.

Pathaan is directed by Siddharth Anand (War, Bang Bang!). The film was shot in Dubai, Abu Dhabi, Spain, and other places. Besides the primary cast, it will have cameos from Salman Khan and Hrithik Roshan, who feature in other titles in a shared 'YRF Spy Universe'.

Pathaan will be released in Hindi, Tamil and Telugu. This is SRK's first release after a gap of five years.

Louise Lombard, Jason Clarke on board Christopher Nolaan's Oppenheimer

CE FEATURES

ACTORS Louise Lombard and Jason Clarke have joined the cast of Christopher Nolan's upcoming release Oppenheimer.

The actors join the previously announced cast including Cillian Murphy, Emily Blunt, Florence Pugh, Robert Downey Jr., Matt Damon, Rami Malek, Benny Safdie, Josh Hartnett, Dane DeHaan, Jack Quaid, Matthew Modine, Dylan Arnold, David Krumholtz, Alden Ehrenreich, Michael Angarano, and David Dastmalchian

Revolving around the life of J Robert Oppenheimer, one of the fathers of the atomic bomb, Oppenheimer is an adaptation of Martin Sherwin and Kai Bird's Pulitzer Prize-winning book American Prometheus: The Triumph of J. Robert Oppenheimer

Nolan will write and direct Oppenheimer with Emma Thomas and Charles Rovan co-producing it. Set to hit theatres on July 21, 2023, the film recently began production.

Meanwhile, Clark, who is best known for his roles in Brotherhood, Pet Sematary, and Silk Road, is set to appear in the HBO series Winning Time: The Rise of the Lakers Dynasty. The actor is also set to appear in the upcoming crime thriller Black Site.

Lombard has appeared in series like CSI: Crime Scene Investigation, Grimm, Lethal Weapon, and Stargate Universe. Currently, the actor stars as Trish Daniels in the After franchise and reprises the role in After Ever Happy, which is currently in post-production.
